SHUSHANNA CAMP TO BE EQUAL OF DAWSON

One Group Sluicing Cleaning
Up $200 Per Man
Daily

FOUR HUNDRED MEN ARE IN FOR WINTER

Mining Engineer Says Year
Will Be Required to Prove Discovery

WHITE HORSE IS ONLY SAFE WINTER ROUTE

Vancouver, Nov. 5.—"Shushanna shows every prospect of equalling Dawson," declared John Nelson, well known northern civil engineer, this morning. This, he said, was the opinion of most of the old-timers in the camp.

"This winter, on account of the water and frost, it is really impossible to know what the actual gold there may amount to, but it is significant that one group, Johnson, Nelson & James, sluicing on account of the freeze-up, were shovelling $200 per day per man," said Mr. Nelson.

There are 250 cabins in Shushanna, housing four hundred men. Thirty-five miles below on the Shushanna river, 200 men are wintering. These have come from Fairbanks and will start for Shushanna early in the spring. Down on the Donjek there are another 200 only waiting for the sleighing to commence, when they will set out for the diggings.

It will take at least a year to prove the camp, Mr. Nelson said, but the whole prospect was excellent. Supplies, however, were scarce, and flour is selling at $1 a pound and this fall nails sold for 10 cents each. Other supplies are in proportion.

The surrounding country also shows great prospects and while no work is being done until spring, on Hosfelt creek, which is several miles from the boundary on the American side, a miner has been making good pay for the last two years. Indications along the Beaver creek, which flows into the White river, in the Yukon, crossing the Yukon-Alaskan boundary, are very good, and Carlo creek, one of its tributaries, has shown particularly good colors, though on account of the water no one has been able to get down to bedrock.

The only safe way now to enter the country is by the Canadian trail from White Horse.

RESIDENT ENGINEER IN FISHERIES OFFICES

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—It is understood that a resident engineer in British Columbia is to be appointed by the fisheries department to have special and exclusive charge of removing obstructions to the free ascent of fish in the rivers of British Columbia.

For instance, he would at once take up such difficulty as recently arose on the Fraser at Hell's Gate Canyon, where rock blasted from the C. N. R. right-of-way kept the fish back on their way up the stream. On the northern salmon streams, too, there are often obstructions to be removed and time is often of the greatest importance. It is stated that the appointment will be announced immediately.

EXPRESS CAR ROBBED.

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 5.—The Dominion Express car travelling over the Canadian Pacific railway from Winnipeg to Edmonton, was robbed somewhere along the route and a number of parcels taken. Discovery of the robbery was not made until the car arrived in Edmonton. There is no clue to the robbers.

COL. HUGHES LOST HIS COMMAND WHEN OUTFLANKED BY WELAND DOGCATCHER

St. Catharines, Ont., Nov. 5.—Colonel Sam Hughes, Canada's minister of militia, while in Welland visiting his daughter, Mrs. Byron M. Green, went for a walk and the little spaniel owned by the daughter trailed gleefully after him. Dog-catcher Adda Jewski made a flank movement and captured the dog and was proceeding triumphantly with his prisoner back toward the town calaboose when Col. Hughes turned his head and noticed him.

"Where are you going with that dog," he asked, and running up seized the trembling animal. Just then Chief of Police Laing came out of police headquarters.

"Here," he called, "what are you doing with that canine?"
"It's mine," said Col. Hughes.
"What are you?" demanded the chief.
"Hughes is my name," said the colonel.

"Lots of Hughes' around here, and one is as good as another. You come in here and get a tag before you go," was the mandate of the chief.

LORD CHANCELLOR'S JUDICIAL PLANS SUBJECT OF MUCH LEGAL ATTENTION

Doubt If British Lawyers
Would Come Willingly to Canadian Court

London, Nov. 5.—Lord Chancellor Haldane's address last night on the future of the Privy Council Judicial Committee is attracting attention on all sides. The committee was considerably strengthened after its functions had been discussed very fully at the last Imperial Conference. Since then Lord Haldane has become Lord Chancellor and has attended sittings of the Privy Council most regularly, and the reforming zeal which he manifested at the war office has also been apparent in several minor details of the Privy Council chamber.

Among lawyers practising before the Privy Council the opinion is expressed that Lord Haldane's idea that a portion of the Judicial Committee should hold sittings throughout the Empire is rather a tall order. It is very doubtful whether eminent English lawyers would favor such a course while lawyers of the overseas dominions have never shown any marked hostility to a trip to London to plead their cause.

RECORD APPEAL BOOK IN PORT MANN CASE

Seven Hundred and Twenty-Two Pages of Evidence in Oliphant
v. Alexander.

Vancouver, Nov. 5.—One of the largest appeal books ever handed to the court of appeal for their lordships to consider is the Oliphant v. Alexander case, which is to be considered at the present sittings. The appeal book consists of 722 typewritten pages of evidence and maps, and is about three inches thick between covers. It comprises the pleadings and evidence in the six days' trial before Mr. Justice Murphy, which ended in William J. Oliphant obtaining judgment against Louis Alexander for the return of money paid for the purchase of Port Mann lots.

The trial is of more importance than appears on the face of the pleadings, for seventeen other actions are awaiting the final result of the Oliphant appeal. Counsel before the court of appeal will be as at the trial, E. P. Davis and D. B. Kerr for Mr. Oliphant, and S. S. Taylor, K. C., with G. R. Sears for Mr. Alexander. The cost of preparing the appeal books is about $1,000.

FISHING BOAT RATING UNCHANGED FOR YEAR

Deputy Commissioner of Fisheries Returns After Trip to Ottawa.

Vancouver, Nov. 5.—D. N. McIntyre, deputy commissioner of fisheries for British Columbia, reached Vancouver on this morning's train and went to Victoria by the 10 o'clock boat. With Mr. Cunningham, of New Westminster, he has been in Ottawa recently conferring with the officials of the federal department on various questions of particular interest to this coast.

PARIS EXPRESS WRECKED.

Melun, France, Nov. 5.—Sixteen bodies were taken during the night from the burned and splintered passenger coaches of the Marzelles and Paris express train wrecked late last night in a collision with a local train. It is believed several more bodies are in the wreckage.

Thirteen persons were seriously hurt.

WIRELESS PHENOMENON OCCURS AT VANCOUVER

Train Dispatcher at Telephone Gets News of Ship Approaching
San Francisco.

Vancouver, Nov. 5.—A most unusual phenomenon is reported to-day by one of the C. P. R. train dispatchers here. The dispatching is done by telephone, and while listening at his instrument the dispatcher picked up the regular long and shorts of the Morse code, and as he was an expert telegrapher he could follow the message which was a wireless from some vessel at sea announcing her approaching arrival at San Francisco. Apparently the telephone wires had acted as aerials. The name of the ship was not given, but a number was signalled instead. Wireless operators and telegraphers are very much interested in the occurrence.

QUARANTINE ORDERED ON SHIPS AT SEATTLE

Because of Bubonic Plague Rate Vessels Must Be Fumigated.

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 5.—A quarantine requiring the fumigation of all vessels touching Seattle, because of bubonic plague rats reported found in that city by the federal health service was ordered last night at the meeting here of the state board of health.

The rules prevent ships that have touched at Seattle from entering the ports of San Francisco, San Pedro or San Diego unless they have been fumigated at Seattle if emptied of their cargoes there or fumigated where they were emptied.

The board of health was notified that Surgeon-General Blue has detailed Dr. C. W. Stiles, federal expert on the hookworm to California in January to make a report on whether hookworm obtains in this state.

ATTACKS GOOD FAITH OF THAW PROSECUTORS

Concord, N. H., Nov. 4.—The good faith of the legal representatives in New York in seeking the extradition of Harry K. Thaw is attacked in a communication sent to Governor Feltner to-day by Judge William M. Chase, of Thaw's counsel. Judge Chase wrote: "The introduction of the indictment obtained in New York county is additional evidence of the subterfuge which the attorney representing the state of New York is employing to obtain the aid of regulation proceedings for the return of an insane man to Matteawan, not for the purpose of protecting himself and the public against insane acts, but for the purpose of punishment; and an insane man who is a resident of Pennsylvania and for whose conduct the state of New York is responsible only while he is actually within that state."

VERDICT SOON EXPECTED.

Kiev, Russia, Nov. 5.—The verdict in the trial of Mendel Beilis for the murder of the Christian boy, Andrew Yushinsky, is expected from the jury about the end of this week.

The speeches of counsel for the prosecution and defence began late to-day. They will occupy at least three days.

STRIKEBREAKERS IN INDIANAPOLIS FAIL

Hail of Bricks Stops Attempt to Renew Running of the Street Cars

CONFERENCE CALLED TO LOOK FOR PEACE

Missiles Thrown by Strikers Do Damage to Those on
Other Side

ALL SERVICE TIED UP SINCE FRIDAY LAST

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 5.—The first street car to be moved since the traction employees' strike was called on Friday night was deserted in the streets to-day after strikebreakers had run it less than a mile through a constant hail of bricks. One strikebreaker was taken from a car badly hurt.

A plan to restore service will be sought at a conference to-day between state, county and city officials and representatives of the labor unions. The street car officials declare they will make no further efforts to run cars until given an armed guard to ride with the strikebreakers.

Governor Ralston and Brigadier-General W. J. McKee of the state militia represent the state at the conference.

Four other strikebreakers, and a number of patrolmen were less seriously hurt by the downpour of missiles that came from roofs and windows from the time the car left the barns until it was abandoned.

Conditions became so dangerous for the strikebreakers that they lay down on the floor of the car, and after a few minutes, as a sign of surrender, threw the controller and all their arms into the street. They were then taken in charge by strikers and policemen and later taken to jail.

Thomas Carlton, the union chauffeur who was shot during a fight at the Louisiana street car barns late Monday, died at the city hospital to-day. Charles Fisher, a strikebreaker from Chicago, was arrested on a charge of murder.

OTTO, OF BAVARIA, NO LONGER REIGNING HEAD

Munich, Bavaria, Nov. 5.—The insane King Otto of Bavaria was deposed to-day from the throne of the kingdom of Bavaria, which he has occupied for twenty-seven years without being aware of his position. Prince Regent Ludwig proclaimed himself king in pursuance of the provisions of a law just enacted by the houses of the Bavarian diet.

The new king is to be known as Ludwig III. He will take the constitutional oath on November 8.

MARGARET WILSON IS NOW SALARIED SINGER

President Wilson's Daughter Heard by Large Audience at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 5.—Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of President Wilson, made her debut as a salaried singer in this city last night. She sang in the ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford hotel, and her audience was one that taxed the capacity of the salon. The concert was given by the Northern Liberty Aid Society, an organization of socially prominent women who are interested in the welfare of working girls. Its purpose was to obtain funds with which to build a home for girls working in the factories of Kensington. Her first rendition was the aria "Connais tu le Pays," from Mignon. Later she sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" and Schumann's "Widmung."

COLONEL ROOSEVELT NOW AT BUENOS AYRES

Fleet of Steamers Gives Ex-President of American Union Most Cordial Welcome.

Buenos Ayres, Nov. 5.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt arrived here shortly after 10 o'clock this morning on board the Uruguayan gunboat Uruguay from Montevideo.

The gunboat was escorted into the harbor by a fleet of steamers dressed with flags from stem to stern. As he approached she fired a salute of 21 guns, to which the gunboat Rosario replied.

Several delegations of prominent political personages and representatives of leading institutions went on board to greet the distinguished visitor.

BELIEVE INTERVENTION IS ONLY SOLUTION NOW

Four Important London Newspapers Editorially Assert That President Wilson's Diplomatic Task is Hard and That Armed Entrance to Mexico is Only Means to Rescue Republic From Chaos, Aside From Revision of Monroe Doctrine

London, Nov. 5.—The London morning papers, in editorials on the Mexican situation, express the belief that although the report of the nature of the Washington communication might be inaccurate, President Wilson would ultimately be driven to intervention. The Morning Post says: "It is more important for the United States to secure good government in Mexico than in any of the smaller states, and if this end can be achieved only by intervention her people will not be daunted by the cost."

The Express contends that delay only increases the difficulties, and that the United States must either act and rescue Mexico from chaos, or the Monroe Doctrine must be revised. The Times thinks any attempt to break down Huerta's influence without intervention would result in increasing his pretension to pose as a patriot and the champion of national rights.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT HEARS FROM MEXICO AND DECIDES TO WAIT FOR UNITED STATES

Paris, Nov. 5.—The French foreign office was asked informally to-day by the Mexican foreign office if it was disposed to mediate between the United States and Mexico.

The French government has taken the attitude that it will do nothing until further advised as to the policy of the United States toward Mexico, and then nothing which might there be unwelcome.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—State department officials take the position that the action of the French foreign office in refraining from indicating whether it was disposed to mediate between Mexico and the United States is another evidence of the intention of France to defer to the policy of the United States in the Mexican situation.

TROOPS ARE ORDERED TO PREPARE FOR SERVICE

Nogales, Ariz., Nov. 5.—Officers commanding the United States troops on border patrol here received orders to-day to prepare equipment for field service.

Railroad officials at the division headquarters at Tucson also received requests for immediate statements regarding the facilities they could furnish for the movement of troops.

San Francisco, Nov. 5.—Army headquarters of the Pacific division knew nothing here to-day of the reported troop movement at Nogales. It was thought that the report might refer to an exchange of troops with Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont, already ordered, but the phrase "equipment for field duty" was mystifying.

APPELLANT LOSES IN CAMPBELL BLOCK SUIT

Decision of Judge Lammiman in Lower Court Unanimously Upheld.

Vancouver, Nov. 5.—The court of appeal this afternoon unanimously disallowed the appeal of the Dickie Manufacturing Company, against the decision of his honor Judge Lammiman in the suit brought by the Dickie Manufacturing Company against Duncan E. Campbell and the Westholme Lumber Company over the building of the Campbell block at Victoria.

The case was of more than ordinary importance because a large number of other claims by contractors for the building are affected by the decision. The Dickie company, which is a Washington concern, had supplied material for the Campbell building, for which the Westholme Lumber Company held the contract for a sum of $121,000. It was alleged that at the time the goods were ordered there was not sufficient balance left on the contract to pay for the goods, and a balance of $1,950 was left unpaid. The Dickie company, claiming that the Westholme company had represented to them that they were acting only as agents of Mr. Campbell, sued before Judge Lammiman for the amount of the unpaid balance, and asked for a mechanic's lien. Judge Lammiman held that plaintiffs were only ordinary material men and not entitled to recover against Mr. Campbell. This view was upheld by the court of appeal this morning.

RAILWAY PLANS BAD FOR LABORER'S BANK

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 5.—Six months ago John Fara, an aged laborer at the top of a rock mound north of the city hall scraped away some dirt, and with a rusty hand pail, his treasure, $2,000, in bright gold was safe. He added a few more coins, replaced the pail, covered the hole and went away. One week ago he returned to Spokane. The mound had disappeared. It had been blown up to make way for railroad terminals during his absence. His treasure had vanished.

NEW YORK ASSEMBLY IS SAFELY REPUBLICAN

New York, Nov. 5.—Complete returns from the municipal election show that John Purroy Mitchell, the Fusion candidate for mayor, led Edward E. McCall, Tammany, by 121,209 votes. McCall ran behind his ticket in all five boroughs.

The totals were Mitchell, 355,885; McCall, 234,676 and Russell, Socialist, 22,109.

Democratic governors were elected in each state where this office was filled, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Virginia. With the exception of New York State, where the Tammany Democracy was severely rebuked, more Democratic than Republican victories were recorded at the polls.

Maryland elected a Democratic United States Senator, Blair Lee. Of the four congressmen elected throughout the country, three were Democrats. The exception was C. D. Folsom in the Third District, Massachusetts.

In Massachusetts there was a Democratic landslide and Lieut.-Governor David I. Walsh was chosen governor by a plurality of 53,691, the largest ever given a Democratic candidate for the office. Mr. Walsh carried with him into office every Democratic candidate on the state ticket, with the possible exception of the attorney-general.

The Tammany Democracy in New York State was condemned in a manner which left little place to the leaders. William Sulzer, deposed governor of New York, was returned to the assembly from New York City. The New York assembly will be safely Republican.

In New Jersey, James F. Fielder, Democrat, was elected governor, with a plurality of about 22,000 over the Republican candidate and the Democrats will control both Houses of the legislature.

WILSON PLEASED WITH DEMOCRATIC VICTORY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—President Wilson made no official comment to-day on the Democratic victories in New Jersey, Massachusetts and Maryland, but told friends he was much encouraged because in all three states the tariff and currency bills were issues, and he felt the administration's policy had been upheld.

The president already had sent a telegram to Mr. Fielder, the victor in New Jersey and dispatched other messages to-day.

MOOSE JAW GRAIN INCREASE.

Moose Jaw, Sask., Nov. 4.—To date 14,543,000 bushels of grain have been shipped from this district, which is approximately three times as much as the entire amount shipped during the same period last year. For the year ending August 31, 1913, the total was 32,000,000 and officials of the C. P. R. say that this year the total will run over 50,000,000.

SIERRA WATER TO LOS ANGELES COST EIGHT YEARS LABOR AND $30,000,000

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 5.—Having accomplished the feat of bringing its municipal water supply through conduits a distance of more than 250 miles, Los Angeles began two days of festivities to-day in celebration of its achievement.

Thousands of citizens went out this morning to the head of San Fernando Valley, twenty-three miles north of the city, and saw cascading out of the mouth of the Los Angeles aqueduct a crystal flood drawn from the heights of the Sierras which rim the eastern edge of California. General Adna R. Chaffee lifted the gates which turned into the monster San Fernando reservoir a flow which assures to the city a supply of 260,000,000 gallons of water every twenty-four hours.

To-morrow the celebration will be continued, the climax coming with the dedication of a fountain costing half a million dollars to commemorate a work that entailed eight years of labor and an expense, including a project to develop 47,000 horse-power, in excess of thirty million dollars.

CHINESE PRESIDENT CHECKING DISORDER

Three Hundred Kwo Ming Tang Party Members Expelled From Parliament

Peking, Nov. 5.—The struggle between the Chinese parliament and President Yuan Shi Kai has brought about drastic action by the president, which, in the opinion of many, will have a serious effect on parliamentary government. Lengthy presidential proclamations have been issued, expelling the Kwo Ming Tang party, numbering more than 300 members from parliament. The proclamations recount the difficulties with which the government has been struggling since the Manchurian regime, and describe the disasters certain to follow if parties such as the Kwo Ming Tang are permitted to exist.

The Kwo Ming Tang party was formerly headed by Dr. Sun Yat Sen, who is now in exile, but in the recent rebellion was required by Yuan Shi Kai to dismiss its southern leaders. Nevertheless, members of the party continued to fight in parliament for the curtailment of Yuan Shi Kai's authority. A crisis in the situation was reached last week, when the draft of the proposed legislation which would make the president absolutely dependent upon parliament, was decided on. Martial law is in operation in Peking, and the authorities are making arrests and summary executions. At various legations the opinion is held that only by strong action can the president prevent the disruption of China by her own people. Very little has been accomplished by parliament, which has devoted its time to opposing the president since it convened. The disorders are spreading.

HALDANE PLANS NEW FINAL LEGAL COURT

Lord Chancellor Addresses University College on Tribunal for Empire

London, Nov. 5.—Lord Chancellor Haldane, speaking last night at the University College upon "Legal and political unity of the Empire," made some interesting remarks on the establishment of a judicial committee of the Privy Council as a movable imperial court.

Recently he had given a great deal of time to this subject, he said, and, when in Canada, was struck with the feeling among those best competent to give an authoritative opinion that if any change took place they did not want to appeal to some new court outside the Dominion. It was easy to talk about an imperial court of appeals, but it was not easy to define it in a way which did not trench upon the just claim of the Dominions across the sea to be self-contained.

Canadians valued the appeal of the King-in-Council very much, and if anything was to be done to alter this judicial arrangement, they hoped the foundation of the appeal and the form of the court would not be varied. He thought that was a very pregnant observation, and probably one which all the self-governing Dominions would make. It meant that the Dominions did not want to appeal to any court outside themselves. They did not regard the King-in-Council as something outside themselves.

"Well," proceeded the Lord Chancellor, "both parties in the state agree that the existing second chamber must be reformed in a fashion that will make it impossible for it to be the supreme appellate court for England, Scotland, and Ireland, and that when it comes we shall have to find a new appellate court."

"What can this court be?" asked Lord Haldane. "I have an impression that it will work out so that presently we will have to think of it in this way—that this great link of Empire would be further developed, and that all appeals, whether from the countries forming a part of the King's dominions outside these islands, or from these islands themselves, will be to the King-in-Council, just as it has been proposed to deal with Irish appeals in the Home Rule bill. It will involve a certain change in the work, as it will be far too great for the judicial committee as at present constituted, supposing that body were still enlarged and an act was passed enabling it to hear in more diverse than one."

"You see what an important instrument we should have for solving imperial problems," the chancellor said. "All appeals would then be made to the King-in-Council, and would be heard by the judicial committee, but the committee, instead of sitting in one division, as to-day, would sit in several places, and as the King is president in each of the Dominions and is represented by his ministers, and as the Privy Council is an imperial body containing chief justices in most of the different parts of the Empire, you have got at once a court which does not offend the canon which the self-governing Dominions set that the supreme court should not be outside themselves."

"In this scheme," continued Lord Haldane, "I see a ready solution of the problems vexing the minds of many statesmen. Supposing we had a boundary case out in Canada. What would be more easy than to export members from London to go and sit as the King's Imperial Privy Council Committee in Canada and deal with these things on the spot?"

Then he said: "A reform of transferring appeals to the King-in-Council and enabling the judicial committee to act in the Dominions would be a good step in the solution of problems of imperial unification."

CUMBERLAND MINES OUTPUT INCREASING

Employees Return to Coal Centre Now Strike Affairs Are Settling.

Cumberland, Nov. 5.—During the past month several miners who were in the employ of the Canadian Collieries at this point have returned to their homes at Nanaimo, South Wellington and Esquimalt. These men came here only to fill in the gap. Their coming here was only with the intention of working and waiting for the Western Fuel at Nanaimo and the coal at South Wellington to commence operations. Now that these mines are working the men have returned to their own employment and place of abode. But with the continuous influx of miners from all parts the management of the Canadian Collieries has been able to continue to increase the production. The total output for the month of October totals 58,061 tons of coal. Showing a steady increase for the past twelve months.

SECOND DEATH OCCURS IN MOOSE JAW WRECK

The other injured are reported to be doing well, and no further casualties are expected. Brooks was a locomotive engineer from Edmonton, and was coming to Moose Jaw to work. He was 27 years of age and has relatives in Edmonton.

The railway company has issued no official report in connection with the wreck. The inquest will be resumed before Coroner Brown to-morrow morning. The railway company will hold an investigation.

Sulzer Wins Contest for Seat in State Assembly for Progressives

New York, Nov. 5.—The total vote of Greater New York, with 74 districts out of 1,280 missing, gives Mitchell, Fusion, 333,142; McCall, Democrat, 224,412; and Russell, Socialist, 30,336.

Tammany Hall saw its nominees for the mayoralty, Edward E. McCall, go down to defeat by one of the biggest pluralities ever given against a candidate of the organization, and it looked as if it might not even get the New York county offices out of the wreck.

The big vote for Mitchell, pulled through the Fusion candidates for president of the board of aldermen and comptroller, George McAneny, and Wm. A. Prendergast, against whom the Independent League as well as the Democratic organization candidates were running.

Apparently, with the exception of assemblymen in some of the districts, and offices in some of the boroughs, the opposition to Fusion succeeded in electing only one of its nominees. Maurice E. Connolly, for borough president for Queens. The Fusionists elected borough presidents in Brooklyn, the Bronx and Richmond, and apparently have pulled through their candidate for president of the borough of Manhattan.

The result thus indicated would leave Tammany but one vote out of sixteen in the board of estimate, which controls the city's purse. A Fusion majority in the board of aldermen also seems assured.

Wm. Sulzer, ousted from the governorship of New York state last month, by a verdict of the high court of impeachment, was elected to the state assembly from the Sixth District by a plurality estimated at an early hour at 2,000 or more. He ran on the Progressive ticket, and apparently polled more votes than his Republican and Democratic opponents combined.

In three states, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Vermont, where gubernatorial elections were held, the Democrats were successful by large pluralities; Virginia furnished an unexpected election for governor, the Democratic nominee being unopposed.

The four cornered contest in Massachusetts resulted in the election of David I. Walsh, Democrat, and present lieutenant-governor, by a plurality of more than 50,000 votes over C. E. Bird, Augustus P. Gardner, Republican and Eugene N. Foss, Independent, the latter of whom was three times elected to the office as a Democrat.

The triumph of the head of the Fusion ticket in the city of New York was assured early in the evening, although it required later returns to show the almost complete defeat of the Democratic ticket.

In New York state the Republicans gained control of the assembly by good working majority, but the result for chief justice and associate justice of the Court of Appeals remained in doubt at a late hour, with the Republicans claiming the election of both of their candidates for both of these places.

SIX ARE INJURED IN RIOTS AT ELECTIONS

Men Imported From Chicago and Indianapolis to Gory Cause Disturbance.

Gary, Ind., Nov. 4.—Despite the presence of a hundred deputy sheriffs, rioting attended the municipal election here to-day. Dr. Frank J. Smith, coroner of Lake county, was injured when he went to a place where it was reported that a man had been murdered. Hundreds of people had surrounded a voting booth where a riot was in progress when Dr. Smith was knocked down and so badly injured that he had to be carried away.

The rioting resulted in a call on the governor for troops. The governor did not send them. When order had been restored it was found that five men had been badly beaten and one man had been shot, the bullet entering his mouth.

Complaint was made that the rioting had been started by men who had been brought into town from Chicago and Indianapolis.

THREE ALDERMEN AT WESTMINSTER RETIRE

New Westminster, Nov. 5.—With the retirement of Ald. F. J. Lynch, Ald. J. B. Jardine and Ald. White there will be at least three new faces in the city council next year.

Ald. Lynch and Jardine have announced their intention of retiring, while Ald. White's retirement will be necessitated owing to his appointment to the harbor board.

Mayor Gray, it is expected, will seek another term and although several names have been mentioned as possible candidates, no one has as yet come forth to oppose him.

RICH GOLD STRIKE AT GRANITE CREEK

Phoenix, Nov. 5.—The Golden Gate Vancouver Syndicate at Granite Creek in the Tulamee country seems to be in a fair way to make a big success of their proposition.

Old-time miners around the Tulamee tell many weird tales of the big rush of '84 at Granite Creek—a wide open camp with 27 saloons running in full blast night and day, of an average daily clean-up of $500 in dust being squandered across the bar the same evening.

EFFEL TOWER NOW WIRELESS CENTRE

Expect to Establish Paris and Washington Time Within Hundredth of Second

Paris, Nov. 5.—The famous Eiffel Tower of Paris, the highest steel structure of its kind in the world, was about to be torn down several years ago on account of its uselessness. To-day it is regarded as one of France's most valuable possessions. The French capital, because of the Eiffel Tower, has become the wireless centre of the world.

Underneath the Champ de Mars, in which the tower stands, a vast subterranean wireless plant has been constructed. Its presence is scarcely suspected by the passer-by, for its only entrance is little more than a trap-door in the ground, partly concealed by a clump of trees.

Below ground, amid a maze of passages, gigantic machines and a continual crackling and flashing of the wireless, a corps of military engineers and electrical experts are working to perfect instruments on the accuracy of whose messages in wartime may depend France's victory or defeat, and on which also will depend the adequate co-operation of the allied army of Russia. It was in his laboratory here that Prof. Henri Abraham, of the Sorbonne, talked to-day of what his work as a member of the French wireless mission sent by the government to Washington, will be. Professor Abraham will not join his colleagues until this month.

"During our work at Arlington last spring," said he, "we succeeded in co-operation with our American associates in establishing the relative time of Washington and Paris within the tenth of a second. Since then we have been able to improve greatly the receiving and recording of wireless messages. We expect now to establish the time of Washington to within the hundredth of a second, and as a part of this result the longitude of Washington as related to Paris. France will later send missions to the other principal nations with the object of establishing a similar accuracy in the relative times. Once this work is accomplished, the world will receive time signals from the Eiffel Tower and will be able to register them to within the hundredth of a second."

"This effort for accuracy to within the hundredth of a second has required a tremendous improvement in the wireless apparatus and a great advance in clock-making. We shall use photography in registering the exact longitude of Washington. We arrive easily at an accuracy of a hundredth part of a second by means of a film revolving at a fixed rate of speed and a luminous spot influenced by the wireless messages. In registering the speed of radio waves I have succeeded in dividing the second into 40,000 parts. Experiences so far on the speed of wireless waves tend to show that they travel at the same speed as light, from which we make the important deduction that they are the same thing."

TELEGRAPH COMPETITION PLANNED FOR ALBERTA

Western Union and Alberta Telephone System Expected to Join Hands.

Calgary, Alta., Nov. 5.—It is the intention of the Alberta government to enter into competition with telegraph concerns now doing business in Alberta. In fact, it is said that there are the strongest indications that the Western Union Telegraph Company of the United States and the Alberta telephone system will join hands in the project.

Some months ago it was published that the Western Union would invade Alberta by means of a working agreement with the telephone system. There was nothing more said about the matter at that time, but recently reports from south of the border line have given color to a similar report, and this time the information is added that the agreement will go into effect next spring.

It is further reported that the government and the Western Union are now negotiating, and by April of next year the Western Union will be in Alberta.

MINE OWNERS PROTEST AGAINST ARBITRATION

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—Protests have been received by the minister of labor from Vancouver island mine owners against an arbitration board to settle the difficulties between the companies and their employees. They point out that the strike has now been in progress for eighteen months, that the mines are in operation and that the men are no longer in the employ of the companies. They also point out that the Lemieux Act does not apply to disputes after a strike is declared, but can only be called into effect to settle pending strikes.

So far no application for a board has been received by the minister, and he has notified the mine owners to this effect.

PRICE OF BUTTER IS LOWERED BY TARIFF

New Zealand Benefits by Reductions in Import Tax of United States

Seattle, Nov. 5.—New Zealand butter, which has recently kept the Seattle market down from 5 to 6 cents per pound, arrived yesterday from San Francisco on the steamer Buckman, where the importation was brought overseas by the Union Line steamer Tahiti. There were not more than a few hundred cubes in the first lot, but the consignee, H. L. Klock, is proud of his efforts at importing the first of the competitive stock under the new tariff laws, and he declared yesterday it was the equal in every way of the best fresh churned Washington creamery butter, and not at all like what is known to the trade as storage butter.

The importation of New Zealand butter to this market has not been possible heretofore for two reasons: the high tariff and the preservatives formerly used in the butter, which are prohibited under the federal food and drug act.

New Zealand manufacturers, however, have been posting themselves on the food laws of the United States, and accordingly they put up stock for shipment without preservatives of any sort. The butter is mild, slightly undersalted as compared with the American taste, and beautifully colored.

Approximately 3,000 cubes of New Zealand butter had been ordered by Seattle jobbers and brokers for distribution on this market, most of which is due to come as fast as the steamships can bring it across the Pacific on its 30-day journey. The tariff laws cut the duty on butter from 6 to 2 1/2 cents per pound. This let New Zealand stock in.

It is probable that the first New Zealand butter will go on sale at retail at leading grocery houses and markets to-day.

APPLICATION TO REMOVE C. P. R. STATION REFUSED

Regina, Sask., Nov. 5.—The board of railway commissioners in a long session yesterday dealt with 18 cases, among the most important of which was the application of Forward, Sask., for the moving of the C. P. R. station from the old town to the new site, 1.5 miles distant. The town was moved in 1911, and obtained the service of the C. P. R. The commission held it was not fair to the farmers living on the other side of the track to make them haul a greater distance, so refused the application. An industrial track was ordered to serve the town.

STATION AGENT SUICIDES.

Galt, Ont., Nov. 5.—The village of Blair, three miles north of Galt, on the Galt-Elmira branch of the Grand Trunk railroad, was the scene of a tragedy yesterday when John Benschaw, Deceased was about 47 years old and had been station agent at Blair for about twenty years. His wife and an adopted daughter survive him.

Our Grandfathers Knew!

To keep that universally recognized individuality which has made W. H. McBrayer's Cedar Brook the world's most famous aged bottled-in-bond whiskey during three generations, millions have been invested. So many people who know its quality require this, that only by carrying each year's enormous supply for 7 to 8 years ripening before it is bottled-in-bond or marketed could that rich, smooth, mellowness, which our grandfathers demanded be attained in W. H. McBrayer's Cedar Brook Bottled-in-Bond—7 to 8 Years Old.

Unlike other advertised 4 to 5 year old whiskeys made in Kentucky, Maryland, Pennsylvania or elsewhere, which are bottled-in-bond at about 4 years—the limit required by U. S. Gov't Law—Cedar Brook is always the same, always satisfactory to the most refined taste, and consequently has a larger sale than all those others combined.

WANTS AN INQUIRY.

Notwithstanding the refusal of the provincial executive to authorize the appointment of a commission to inquire into the graft allegations in connection with civic contracts, the council, or at any rate a majority of the council, is determined to do its utmost to have a judicial inquiry. The city solicitor has been requested to look into the matter and report as to the power of the municipal authority to order an investigation of this character. This, of course, would be the only kind of inquiry which would elicit all the information available. The aldermen responsible for the charges have stated that they would divulge more particulars in an investigation before a judge.

The Times has contended from the start that public interest demands that the aldermen who made the allegations referred to should be given the fullest and most formal opportunity of proving the serious charges made by them. The refusal to afford them this opportunity is bound to create the suspicion that their statements are true, especially when that refusal is based on a flimsy pretext.

Alderman Cuthbert on Monday declared that on the night the superficial investigation held by the council took place "telephones were rung up by those who did not desire an official inquiry" and that "no doubt the action of the government in refusing the investigation was a God-send to somebody." This in itself is a serious statement. It directly attributes the government's refusal to comply with the petition for an investigation to outside influence. Who are the parties who patronized the telephone on that occasion and why did they not want an inquiry? Why should the executive without valid reason refuse the prayer of the council that a judicial investigation be conducted? If the allegations made are shown to be unfounded, the aldermen who made them must bear the odium of introducing slander into the consideration and discussion of the city's business. If they are found to be true, proceedings must be instituted against the guilty parties. Turn on the searchlight.

WORK SHOULD BE STARTED.

In view of the serious aspect of the unemployment problem in this city and the prospects of considerable distress during the winter, the Social Service Commission has interviewed the government relative to an early start on those extensive works which we periodically are informed are to be carried on here. Its representations elicited no satisfaction, and on Monday a committee of the council was authorized to again approach the provincial executive on this subject.

The works in mind are the improvements on the Songhees Reserve. These consist, as far as the government is immediately concerned, of operations preliminary to the establishment of railroad terminals, the Johnson street bridge and the extension of a roadway through the area to connect with Esquimalt road. On December 25, 1912, the announcement of these plans, including those for the terminals, was made in the morning paper under instructions from the government. At that time the Times in approving of the plans expressed the hope that work would be started in the near future. We were assured that we need have no misgivings on that point. The Premier in an interview accompanying the announcement declared that the year 1913 would be an exceptionally prosperous one for the city in consequence of the extensive operations to be carried on.

Almost a year has passed, and no start has been made with the main work, although the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has completed a considerable addition to its facilities. The government has a great deal to do on the reserve, according to the original announcement, and it is this the Social Service Commission and city council desire to see started. Although we know that the ministers are retrenching considerably in their expenditures, we have not been informed that the government is financially embarrassed. The enormous commission of $20,000 paid to the intermediaries who negotiated the purchase of the Kitsilano reserve in Vancouver would seem to dispel any impression that the provincial funds are low.

It may be that the Attorney-General, who has been acting as first minister in the absence of Sir Richard McBride, did not desire to undertake the responsibility of inaugurating operations. But the Premier is expected back to-day, and should be interviewed at once. He is the senior member for the city, and should use all his powerful influence to avert the distress which, we are informed, threatens a considerable number of workmen during the next few months. There is really no cogent reason why work on the bridge, roadway and other improvements for which the government was given credit in the announcement of December 25 should not be begun immediately. More than that, the provincial authorities should urge upon the Canadian Northern Railway the necessity of an early commencement with its plans. This is not too much to ask in return for the substantial assistance the people are giving this company. We trust something will be done and done quickly.

HOME-GROWN REVOLUTIONS.

Talk about revolutions in China, in Mexico, the intermittent uprisings in the Latin states of South America, and the great social revolution David Lloyd George is leading in Great Britain. There appear to be just as real revolutions pending much nearer home. The rains of not a few winters have fallen upon the head of the Times, but it does not remember a season when there were so many portentous signs of an uprising against existing conditions as in the present day. Forces have been gathering for the fray for years, but it is only now that a point has been reached from which it is deemed expedient to strike a blow for freedom from the exactions and oppressions of the barons of privilege. The great triumph achieved by the people of the United States in the late battle at the polls appears to have given new life to the exponents of fiscal and industrial freedom. Our attention has been called to three clarion calls recently issued (1) to the wage-earners, (2) to the farmers, (3) to the men who direct the national courses of the Dominion.

We shall take the case of the farmers first, as they are engaged in the premier industry of the country. Here is what a delegation representative of that industry is going to submit to the Dominion government during the coming winter:

"1. That we urge the parliament of Canada to increase, at its first session, the British preference to at least fifty per cent., and to provide for a gradual increase from year to year until we have free trade with Great Britain in five years.

"2. That parliament accept the offer of the United States of free interchange of all agricultural and animal products between Canada and the United States.

"3. That all foodstuffs not provided for in the above offer of the United States be transferred to the free list."

Just to prove that the farmers of Canada are not alone in this movement for the emancipation of business, we reproduce a few vigorous remarks addressed by the master of the Washington State Grange to the farmers of that neighboring state:

"Make no mistake—we are face to face with the entire removal of the protective tariff from farm products. In my judgment, there is no escape from this conclusion, and the thing for us to do is to meet the issue fairly and squarely.

"As a system, Protection is doomed. If we, as farmers, stand for it, we shall lose our share, and the public, believing that it has secured relief from the burden of living cost, will stop there, causing whatever of loss occurs to fall upon the farmer. Consequently, the business-like course open is for the farmer to fight, not to continue the system, but to smash it! Fight, not to hold his own questionable benefits of tariff on grain and live stock and wool, but to strip the coat of privilege off from the back of every business engaged in supplying the necessities of life. . . . The time to cure the whole diseased system has come, and the proper medicine is the axe. . . . Let us stand steadfast to this, and appeal to farmers everywhere to join with us and wipe every tariff privilege off the statute books now and for ever."

Finally we find the following addressed to wage-earners by the New York Saturday Post, a paper which usually takes a very broad and tolerant stand on all subjects of an industrial and social character:

"If you think of it a moment, you must see that your own wages will be based in proportion as you are actually free and can choose what you will do. When you find men working for beans and a calico shirt, you need no professor of civil government to tell you they are not free.

"As a thoroughly assistive system—based on the notion that government should confer benefits on certain chosen persons who will hand the benefits along to the masses—protection is opposed to liberty. If, on the largest view, it has had any appreciable effect upon wages, that effect has probably been to lower them."

In view of warnings from many quarters, it is not a matter for surprise to observe that more than one newspaper supporting the present Dominion government tells that administration that a crisis is approaching in the affairs of the country "unless the citizens of Canada are given an opportunity to buy and sell freely."

"CHIP OF THE OLD BLOCK."

The London Morning Post, which usually represents the extreme naval school in Britain, thus refers to New Zealand's naval policy:

"New Zealand launches herself upon the blue waters of the Pacific like a true 'chip of the old block' with pluck and devotion. It is, we are more and more convinced, the right policy for our antipodean dominions. It will help to teach them the realities of life and will go to give them strength and self-reliance from a naval point of view. It will at first mean a certain loss of strength and unity, but in the end may add more to our imperial strength than anything which could be hoped for from a cash subsidy."

History is punctuated with the monuments of dead empires which failed to develop in their dominions and colonies fresh centres of strength. Richard Jebb, a noted British writer on imperialism, cites a striking example. The various partners of the Delian League were persuaded to transmute their independent contingents into cash subsidies to the admiralty of that time, with the result that when the one and indivisible navy sank in the harbor of Syracuse it carried with it the Athenian Empire. The freest and fullest development of each part of the British Empire, which includes the development of the agencies of defence in the construction of ships and the training of men, as represented in the policies of Australia and New Zealand, is the one thing that will prevent a repetition of those melancholy imperial catastrophes from which centralists are unable to extract any lessons.

RIGHT BETWEEN THE EYES.

Tammany has received a jolt squarely between the eyes. Its candidate for the mayoralty of New York has been buried beneath an avalanche of adverse ballots, and although the tiger has not been killed its claws have been neatly clipped. The public conscience of Gotham has been thoroughly aroused; the east side has refused to prostrate itself before its idol, as it has done so many times. Even the Democratic press, which was more or less allied with that organization because of its ostensible connection with the politics of its party, in most cases abandoned it to the vengeance of the multitude. The responsibility of its methods for the orgy of corruption and crime; its tyrannical assumption of dictatorship; its vaunt that governors, legislators, councillors and civic officials were nothing more than its messenger boys, were pills of too bitter a quality to be swallowed.

Of course ex-Governor Sulzer will insist that he did the deed of vengeance. No doubt the man who was dethroned from the highest place in the gift of the people of the state contributed to the organization's defeat, the disclosures made by him and his friends nauseating public sentiment. But generally throughout the country in recent years there has grown a revolt against those machine politics which were vitiating the moral atmosphere of the nation. Public men from senators to aldermen have been imprisoned; crooked financial magnates have been put in stripes; gigantic illegal industrial combinations have been dissolved, and it was the tail of this whip which yesterday raised a welt on the bare back of Tammany. But it is easier to chastize than to destroy such an organization. It is no weakling, but perhaps the most strongly entrenched political establishment in the world. It is older than the American union. It has immense resources at its command, the resources of the people on whom it has preyed. Only when the soil on which it has thrived becomes barren will it wither away. A few blows like that of yesterday may so destroy its prestige among the class which is its main source of strength that it may be rendered harmless.

The daylight saving proposal which is to be discussed by the board of trade is an ingenious contrivance designed to convert the community into one large early bird that catches the worm. Some years ago Edward Norman Lewis, M. P. for an Ontario constituency, placed a resolution on this subject on the House of Commons order paper, but nothing came of it. Public interest is usually blankly lethargic when it comes to discussing ways and means of raising people from their comfortable beds an hour ahead of immortal custom. They will merely glance at the clock, roll over and relapse into slumber with the reflection that the timepiece is guilty of gross fabrication.

Mayor Morley has informed a representative of the Times that he does not propose to give out any further Information for publication.—The Workman is quite frank respecting his reasons for placing a padlock on his lips. He personally objects to editorial comments upon certain occurrences at the city hall. The deduction is that if we will close up the Mayor's will open up. The public man who resents fair criticism and aims at conducting business in secret requires watching. That has been the experience of all the ages. However, the Times still will get the news and print it.

The temporary financial stagnation has at least developed on the part of citizens an active interest in civic affairs. The usual thing is for candidates for the mayoralty and the city council to put off announcement of their intentions until the beginning of the year. The elections are more than two months off, yet already some very promising candidates are in the field. There will be very general satisfaction at the definite announcement that Alexander Stewart has cast his gauntlet in the ring and will enter the lists for the prize of the mayoralty.

The Toronto Star remarks: Now that the Premier of New Zealand announces his withdrawal from that little squadron devised by Mr. Churchill it looks as if there would be nobody left in it but Mr. Borden and the Sultan of Perak.

The Times has fallen upon evil days. Mr. Bowser is down upon us, and the Mayor does not like us. But, thank heaven, we still have one friend who sticks closer than a brother. Sir Richard, we know, will never go back upon us.

The Democrats have made an immense sweep in the elections in the Eastern states. Massachusetts, a protectionist stronghold, has gone heavily in favor of the party of low tariff. The Republican party seems to be in total eclipse.

Did you happen to observe how brightly the sun is shining to-day? Sir Richard is back. The light of his countenance will beam upon us again to-morrow in the front page of the faithful organ.

Welcome home the Premier. We are reminded, also, that this is Guy Fawkes Day. There is no connection between the two circumstances of course outside the fireworks.

BITS OF WISDOM.

Do the truth you know, and you shall learn the truth you need to know.—George McDonald.

Could we see when and where we are to meet again, we would be more tender when we bid our friends goodbye.—Ouida.

As love will often make a wise man act like a fool, so will interest often make a fool act like a wise man.—Greville.

Be watchful of thy body if thou wouldst rightly exercise thy mind.—Descartes.

Bad men excuse their faults, good men will leave them.—Johnson.

MEIGHEN'S VIEWPOINT CHANGED

London Advertiser.

The Hon. Arthur Meighen, the latest addition to the Borden cabinet, was a great advocate of the reduction of the tariff on agricultural implements when he was in opposition. He fought the Liberal government at the last election, ostensibly because the slight reduction in the tariff proposed was too little for the needs of the West. But since the Borden government came in he has been silent in regard to his old grievance. And he is regarded as a member of a cabinet that will propose to do. Not very consistent, perhaps; but office changes a man's point of view very often.

Mr. Meighen has changed his opinion. Or, if he has not, he must think that it is more important for him to hold office than for the Western farmer to have his taxes reduced.

THE NEWSPAPER BARON.

London Citizen.

Is it a fact that every available copy of Mr. Kettle Howard's new book, "Lord London," which deals with the life of a great newspaper owner, has been bought up by a famous capitalist journalist, who is said by some of the critics to be here, to prevent its further circulation? The other side of the story is that it is already impossible to return to the publishers many of those sent out for review, they being reported as "unaccountably missing."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, November 5, 1888.

At three o'clock the residents of Victoria West, or rather those living in the vicinity of Lime Bay, were alarmed by the thrilling cry of fire. It was found that a portion of the premises owned and occupied by Mr. McKay was in flames. Thanks to the Esquimalt Waterworks Company and the aid of neighbors the fire was kept from spreading, but the wood-shed, chicken-house and offices were destroyed.

Ex-Mayor Carey's buildings on Cormorant street are progressing rapidly towards completion.

The members of the Loyal Orange Society in this city assembled in their lodgeroom yesterday morning and marched in regalia to the Gorge road church, where a special sermon was addressed to them, and the large congregation, by the Rev. Mr. Wadman. This being Guy Fawkes day, the members of the order will hold their annual ball in the Philharmonic hall.

Dr. Walkem and bride returned to Nanaimo by this afternoon's train.

J. N. Langley, deputy sheriff, has returned to the city from New Westminster.

Denison at a meeting held on Tuesday evening in the St. Andrew's hall, a big audience being present, and John Hoole presiding. The speaker gave a number of illustrations in connection with his talk, and pointed out the advantageous position which Victoria enjoyed as a meteorological station. On motion of Rev. Dr. Clay a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the speaker at the close of the proceedings, for the enjoyable and instructive talk he had given.

Friendly Help, Society.—Miss Lawson, secretary of the Friendly Help, who has been away for three months on holiday, was warmly welcomed back at the monthly meeting of the organization yesterday in the rooms, Market building. Lady McRide presided, and several matters of routine business were disposed of. Wilson and Mrs. Hay were appointed the visiting committee for the ensuing month, and the report of the past month's work showed that 193 visits had been made.

St. John's W. A.—St. John's W. A. to Missions met yesterday afternoon in the schoolroom, Mason street, Mrs. Penketh, in the absence of the president, Mrs. R. W. Walker, presiding. In addition to the sewing and tea served during the afternoon, a very interesting address on the needs of the church and parish at Tofino was delivered by the Rev. A. L. Todd, of Tofino.

For Admission to Practice.—Thirty-five candidates for admission to the practice of medicine have been undergoing examination at the parliament buildings under the supervision of Dr. C. J. ## New Edison Disc Phonograph

"THE FIRST INSTRUMENT TO REPRODUCE MUSIC PERFECTLY."

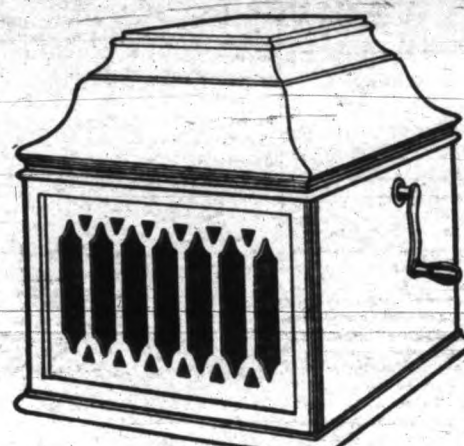

You who will have the pleasure of hearing this gifted singer this evening will realize what it would mean to you to hear her and others as great in your own homes as will you who will not have occasion to hear Madame Rappold to-night will have all the more reason for hearing her on the New Edison as soon as possible.

The New Edison is a wonderful instrument that fact the music critics of the world admit. But it is more than a wonderful instrument; it is the first adequate means of faithfully reproducing the tones of the human voice. Mr. Edison's remarkable genius and his years on years of hard work have resulted in this instrument which is as nearly perfect as human ingenuity can make it.

With the New Edison there is none of that scratching and scraping so many people dislike in ordinary instruments of a similar nature. The New Edison actually reproduces the over-tones, thereby giving the "soul" of the singer's voice and reproducing the "quality" that distinguishes it from all other voices. In other words, the New Edison reproduces the voice as it actually sounds.

This is but one of the many outstanding features of this magnificent instrument of music. Permanent, diamond-point needles, a built-in automatic stop device, indestructible records of double the capacity of any others—these are a few more strong points.

Come in and hear Rappold—hear other world-famed artists and realize what Edison has done in this new Phonograph.

ASIA MAKES RECORD FOR STEERAGE LISTS

Empress Off This Afternoon for Orient With 1,000 Asiatics; Many in Saloon

One thousand Chinese, Japanese and Hindus sailed away on board the fine C. P. R. liner Empress of Asia, Capt. Robinson, for their native lands this afternoon to see their wives, families and relatives, and tell them all about the glories and wonders of this far distant land. The steamer list of this great white liner was the largest that ever left on a single vessel crossing the Pacific Ocean. The limit of the Asia's steerage quarters is 1,000, and if there had been more room it could easily have been filled, as many applicants for tickets had to be refused.

The Empress of Asia arrived here from Vancouver at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and later backed out to the outer docks, and pointed her nose for Race Rocks. There is a singular peculiarity about the Asiatics, in that they all wish to travel on the best, newest and largest ships, no matter if it does cost a little more. The new white liners have been carrying capacity steerage lists ever since their advent into the trans-Pacific trade. The bulk of the passengers who left on the Asia were booked in Vancouver. Two hundred Orientals embarked at this point, and there were some animated scenes at the docks as the home-ward bound passengers boarded the ship with their massive bundles.

The white liner also set sail with a large list of saloon passengers, several joining the ship at this port. All told the Asia carried the largest number of passengers that has ever crossed the Pacific either eastbound or westbound at once.

A full cargo was taken out by the steamer, including wheat, flour and fish.

CHINESE ARE THE BEST

Portland, Ore., Nov. 5.—That Chinese make more dependable sailors than Japanese is the belief of Captain Ichihama, master of the Japanese steamship Senju Maru, which arrived from the Far East via San Francisco under charter to Mitsui & Co., to transport a cargo of wheat and flour to the Orient. For that reason all of his 32 sailors are Chinese. The 12 officers, two quartermasters, one carpenter and a donkeyman are Japanese.

Captain Ichihama, who is on his first trip to this side of the Pacific, says the Japanese sailors are not inclined to obey orders so readily as the Chinese and the former are not so faithful.

PRESIDENT STEAMING HERE.

The Pacific Coast steamer President, Capt. Paulsen, left San Francisco yesterday afternoon for Victoria and is expected to reach the outer docks at 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. She has 281 tons of cargo for this port and is bringing a large list of passengers.

RUPERT ARRIVES IN.

The G. T. P. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. McKenna, was in port this morning from Granby Bay and Prince Rupert. She brought south about 125 passengers. The Rupert sails north to-morrow morning.

ORDER BOTANIST TO COME TO THIS COAST

Will Be Largest of Harrison Fleet in Pacific; Loads in January

Largest of the Harrison liners to be ordered to this coast in the Liverpool-Victoria service, the big steamship Botanist is to go on berth at Liverpool on January 22 and close two days later. Word has just been received by Balfour, Guthrie & Co., agents for the line, that the four-master is to replace the Candidate, which was selected some time ago to take the January sailing.

Since the Harrison company inaugurated the service to Victoria it has sent a number of its largest steamships to this coast to alternate with smaller vessels and assist in handling the great amount of freight which finds its way to the United Kingdom and Europe via the Strait of Magellan. The Botanist is a vessel of 7,885 tons, and in point of tonnage ranks as fourth in the great Harrison fleet. The largest of the line to come here so far, the big white liner has been carrying capacity steerage lists ever since their advent into the trans-Pacific trade.

The bulk of the passengers who left on the Asia were booked in Vancouver. Two hundred Orientals embarked at this point, and there were some animated scenes at the docks as the home-ward bound passengers boarded the ship with their massive bundles.

YOKOHAMA CERTAINLY IS LUCKY STEAMSHIP

Japanese Liner Missed All Heavy Storms on Pacific; Valuable Silk Cargo

Pushed along by favorable winds and heavy following seas, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Yokohama Maru, Capt. Wada, which steamed into port this morning one day ahead of time, was able to make a very smart winter passage from Yokohama. The steamship was exceptionally lucky in missing all the bad weather which has been reported by vessels which have arrived here recently from the Orient. Not even a gentle head breeze nor a light head sea was met once during the fourteen and a half-day voyage. The officers explained that the name "Yokohama" is lucky and that not once has the ship been in any really severe weather since entering the trans-Pacific service. The navigators are hoping that the spell of fortune will continue with the ship.

Capt. Wada reports that the weather is getting very cold on the Pacific, especially when skirting the Aleutian Islands. The thermometer was very low at times and heavy garments were required in promenading the decks. Occasional snow flurries were encountered and the ship's decks, masts and rigging were given a ghostly appearance. Capt. Wada was in good spirits.

The steamship Crown of Arragon is the next of the Harrison liners due to berth at Victoria, and she is looked for here about the middle of the month. The Arragon has not as yet put in appearance at San Pedro, her first port of call on the Pacific coast. She is expected there almost any time.

The shipments of canned goods from San Francisco to England at present are very heavy and all the Harrison liners are taking out exceptionally large cargoes. The Huntsman has just cleared from the Golden Gate with about 10,000 tons stored in her holds.

The steamship Yasukuni Maru, which sailed from San Francisco at 1 o'clock yesterday morning for Seattle and will load a cargo of 5,500 tons of wheat and flour for the Far East. She will come direct to the Hammond mill and later shift to Tacoma to complete her cargo, taking in all about 2,500 tons of flour and 4,000 tons of wheat. The Yasukuni Maru sailed from Moji, Japan, October 6, arriving at the Golden Gate on October 23.

The Japanese steamer Tamon Maru, now on her way from Moji to San Francisco, will be dispatched to the Sound to load wheat and flour for the Orient. She will load at Tacoma and is expected at that port about November 15.

The Oriental Trading Company, of Seattle, are acting as agents for the Yasukuni Maru, the Tamon Maru and the Darien Maru. The Japanese steamship Shibu Maru, now loading at Albers mill in the east waterway, will take approximately 200,000 sacks of flour.

The Japanese steamer Darien Maru is now at Tacoma loading wheat and flour for the Orient and is expected to complete to-day.

WIRELESS STATION FOR CHATHAM POINT

Thought Government Will Do Away With "Dead" Stretch in B. C. Waters

To eliminate the "dead" section along the British Columbia coast it is understood that in the near future the Dominion government will order the construction of a new wireless station on Chatham Point, which lies almost half way between Cape Lazo and Alert Bay. With the establishment of the tower steamers plying up and down the British Columbia coast will never be out of touch with the wireless stations between Victoria and Prince Rupert. The radio-telegraph department, it is said, is now considering the proposal to build the new Chatham Point tower.

Along the exceptionally high hills which rise almost perpendicularly from the tortuous channel between Cape Lazo and Alert Bay it is impossible for these two stations to communicate at any time. When the coasting steamers are in this "dead" stretch they cannot dispatch or receive any messages. The station at Chatham Point would do away with this non-communicative section, and vessels equipped with wireless would no longer slip out of the radius of one station that they would be within the range of the next wireless tower.

Langara May Come.

Although the station which, according to reports, is to be built at Langara Island off the northwest corner of the Queen Charlotte Islands, may be built by the Dominion government, it is certain that the lofty mast will not be raised there for some time at any rate. When the steamships are running into Prince Rupert the tower will be needed there, but it will not be required for some time yet.

The wireless machines installed at the different stations along this coast are all very powerful, particularly those on the west coast, which have been known to speak with ships 2,500 miles out in the Pacific.

The barque logged 10,000 miles in 38 days, from Montevideo to Adelaide. At dusk one day in the midst of a calm a golden squall came up, carrying down several of the sails and at the same time a large tramp steamship loomed down on the barque. Although Captain Durkee burned blue lights and gave other signals, there was no answer from the strange ship.

"There was not a living soul on the deck or bridge," said Capt. Durkee. "And there was nobody on the lookout. We did what we could to avert a collision, and by quick work we passed under full sail barely a biscuit's toss away."

On the way from Carthage to Adelaide, Capt. Durkee turned all hands to chipping the rust from the skin of the steel winged ship. One of the smallest lads on the barque climbed so hard with his pick down in the forepeak that he scraped a hole through the plate, and the Atlantic came gushing in so furiously that the men were kept at the pumps regularly for four hours a day until the ship reached port and was repaired.

San Francisco, Nov. 5.—The steamer Beaver and Necanicum are both here after their collision off port. Both will be repaired. The Necanicum's damage is not very serious.

An examination of the Beaver shows that the liner was damaged more severely than at first supposed. In addition to her dented bowplates, her forward frames have been sprung and she must be laid up for long and costly repairs.

Responsibility for the collision has not been determined yet. The Beaver was rammed by the Necanicum. Both vessels were able to make port under their own steam.

FIRST WINTER GALE HOLDS UP VESSELS

Senator Has to Abandon Voyage by Outside Passage; Phelps Anchors

Seattle, Nov. 5.—Vessels plying the North Pacific yesterday encountered the first heavy weather of the winter, a south to southwesterly gale, which reached a velocity of forty-eight miles an hour at 1:30 p. m. By 5:30 p. m., however, the gale had spent its force and the velocity had dropped to 12 miles an hour.

Wireless dispatches from the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's steamer Senator, bound from Nome for Seattle on her last voyage of the year in the Behring Sea service, indicated that she had been in the teeth of the storm. Captain T. H. Cann, the vessel's master, advised Captain E. L. McKenna, superintendent of the Pacific Coast Co., that he was forced to abandon the voyage to Seattle via Cape Flattery and that he had put in via Triangle Island and Queen Charlotte Sound, and was coming to this port via the inside passage.

The full-rigged American ship Erling M. Phelps, of the Union Oil Co., which passed out at the Cape at 6 a. m. in tow of the tug Hercules, and bound from Seattle for Port San Luis, was forced to put back at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon on account of the gale and at 5:30 last night was anchored at Chatham Bay.

PRIZES PRESENTED TO CIVILIAN RIFLEMEN; WONDERFUL PROGRESS MADE DURING YEAR

Very Enjoyable Smoker Held
Last Evening at Drill Hall;
Address by Col. Duff Stewart

Judging by the number of trophies on show at the annual smoker of the Civilian Rifle Association at the drill hall last evening the marksmen of the association have plenty of incentive to practice hard at the ranges. The cups, medals, spoons and other trophies made an imposing array, and their presentation by Major Angus was the most interesting item in a very interesting evening.

Captain Gollop, the energetic and untiring captain of the association, was the recipient of a fine case of pipes in recognition of his efforts on behalf of the club. T. G. Thomas, the secretary was also the recipient of a token of esteem from the members in the form of a sovereign case full of gold pieces.

A thoroughly enjoyable musical programme was given during the evening as follows:

Piano solo, Mr. Dobson; song, Mr. Thomas; song, Paul Edmunds; duet, Messrs. Sparks and Collins; presentation of prizes, by Major Angus; song, Mr. A. A. Codd; song, Mr. Collins; recitation, Mr. S. Williams; song, Mr. Sparks; song, Mr. Edmunds; address by Lieut. Col. J. Duff Stewart.

The secretary's report was favorable, and reflected the hard work which had been done by the captain and secretary and the members themselves in increasing their borders and extending their membership. The latter had been more than doubled during the course of the season, the list now holding more than one hundred, and the financial condition of the association being excellent.

Captain Gollop paid the association the compliment in his address of declaring it probably the best of its kind in Canada. The records for the 1913 season, he said, gave the local association a higher rating in proportion to its size than any other in the Dominion. He remarked in a complimentary way on the improvement shown in shooting this year and looked for a still greater one in the coming season.

It was noted during the evening that no fewer than twenty-one members had made possible, as against 14 made by members of the Fifth Regiment. These members were presented with spoons as also were seventeen others who had distinguished themselves in special competitions. Comment was made on the remarkable feat of D. McNichol, who made a possible at the 1,000 yards range.

R. L. Fox was the most prolific of prize-winners, and he had won the gold button on no fewer than fourteen occasions. Ten Canadian Rifle Association spoons were also presented.

The Short, Hill and Duncan trophy awarded to the member with the highest aggregate of five best scores at 600 yards together with the three best at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards went to Captain Gollop. The Sidney Williams Shield was won by R. W. Fox and the Sheldon Williams trophy by A. E. Ashe.

Among the prize-winners was P. R. M. Wallis, a very promising shot of eighteen years of age. Though the youngest member of the club, he carried off at least half a dozen prizes, and has done uniformly excellent work at the ranges throughout the season.

Lieut. Col. Duff Stewart, of Vancouver, arrived late in the evening, and made a very interesting and entertaining speech to the men, offering his tribute of praise on the excellent showing they had made during the year.

FIVE VANCOUVER BOXERS TO GO TO PORTLAND

Vancouver will be represented by no fewer than five boxers at the annual Pacific coast championship tournament which this year will be held under the auspices of the Multnomah Club of Portland, on Friday and Saturday of next week. The Vancouver Athletic Club will send three of the boys, while the Commercial Athletic Club, the city's infant athletic institution, will have two clever boys in attendance.

The Commercial Club will likely send Len Holliday, the clever bantam and Billy Soules, the hardbitten 125-pounder. Holliday will box in the 108-pound class.

The Vancouver Athletic Club representatives will very probably be Paul Pederson, the champion featherweight of the province; Stanley Clement, a shifty 125-pounder, and Percy Atcheson, a very clever welterweight. Clubs from all over the Pacific coast will compete from Vancouver as far south as Los Angeles.

COWBOY BILLIARDIST.

Cowboy Charley Weston has been wading through all-comers in the various Chicago rooms like wildfire in preparation for his coming championship match with Benny Allen, set for Dec. 1, 2 and 3, at John King's room in Kansas City. Weston is confident of taking the pocket billiard emblem away from Allen and his friends will journey to the Missouri city willing to wager their last "iron men" on the former cowboy-puncher. James Maturo, of Denver, has challenged the winner.

"SKENE" RONAN WILL NOT COME TO COAST

All doubts as to whether or not Skene Ronan, the star Ottawa hockey forward, will come to the coast or not were set at rest yesterday when Frank Patrick received a communication from Ronan himself stating that owing to business reasons, it will be impossible for him to play on the coast this coming season. He also advises the Vancouver magazine to hold off any further communications till he receives a letter in which everything would be explained.

It will be remembered that Patrick became the owner of the services of the Ottawa forward by a deal in which Kendall was exchanged for him. The deal was ratified by the Ottawas at their annual meeting. It will be remembered also that President Lichenhein protested against the exchange, asserting that the club had waived rights, but his protest was overruled.

Now "Skene" has taken matters into his own hands and refuses to come to the coast. Under these circumstances the Patrick's will probably not make any effort to assert their right to his services. Lester Patrick said this morning that if Ronan cannot report, then Carl Kendall must revert to the Vancouver club.

FRATERNITY'S DEMANDS IGNORED BY LEAGUE

Chicago, Nov. 5.—The American League will not consider the demands of the ball players' fraternity at its annual meeting to-morrow. President Johnson said today that the league has never been asked formally by the fraternity to grant any reforms or to make any changes in the contracts, and that while the National commission had referred to each club owner a synopsis of the changes desired by the men, the programme of the meeting called for no discussion of it.

Magnates of the league were slow in gathering to-day and the absence of some of its members caused postponement of the board of directors' meeting until to-morrow. It will precede the league meeting, which is to be held in the afternoon.

VARDON'S CRACK RECORD.

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 5.—Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, the English golf professionals, defeated James Barnes, of Tacoma, and Robert Johnstone, of Seattle, in a best ball foursome here. Vardon established a new course record in competition in the afternoon round, making a 67, par for the course being 73.

WILL STAGE BIG BOUTS.

Venice, Cal., Nov. 5.—Tom McCarey, the local fight promoter, is figuring on two bouts for this month. He has patched Bud Anderson and Frankie Burns to fight 20 rounds on Nov. 15 and he also expects to land Cross and Rivers for Thanksgiving day.

WRESTLING CHAMPIONSHIP.

Minneapolis, Nov. 5.—Mike Yokel, middleweight champion wrestler of the world, will meet Joe Carr here to-night for the championship.

TWENTY-FIVE PLAYERS IN FIRST FOOTBALL

American inter-collegiate football had its beginning at New Brunswick, N. J., forty-four years ago to-morrow, November 6, when Rutgers College defeated Nassau Hall, now Princeton University, by a score of six goals to four. In a return contest a week later old Nassau turned the tables, defeating Rutgers by the one-sided score of eight to nothing. The code of rules governing these contests, which inaugurated the football madness among American colleges, was the first distinctive gridiron code ever adopted on this side of the Atlantic. Football had been played in the United States and Canada long before it was taken up by the institutions of learning, but the English rules were enforced in real games, while in the cruder contests that went by the name of football there were no rules at all, the sole aim being to get the ball between the goals of the enemy, any sort of play that could possibly effect that object being permissible. Under the pioneer American college code each team had twenty-five players. Other rules were:

The grounds must be 360 feet in length and 225 feet in width, and the goals must be set a distance of eight paces from each other.

No holding or tripping of players.

BOXING IN MONTREAL

Montreal, Nov. 5.—Ten-round boxing bouts will be staged in Montreal shortly. George Kennedy, the local promoter, left for New York to sign up several well known mitt artists. The first bout will be staged on Nov. 21.

SPORTING NEWS

BAYLEY AND WHITE TO MEET AGAIN SOON

Tentative Arrangements Have Been Made for Second Bout November 14

Arrangements have been tentatively made for a return bout between Joe Bayley, ex-lightweight champion of Canada, and Jack White, the Chicago boxer whom he defeated in Vancouver on Saturday last. If the projected plans are carried out the bout will be staged at Steveston Arena on Friday evening, November 14.

After Saturday's bout White asked for another chance against his opponent, and yesterday Morris Condon, Bayley's manager, approved tentative articles for the contest. The agreement was entered into between Morris Condon and Fred Corbett, representing White. As Condon desired to see Bayley, however, before he finally linked up, the articles were not finally signed. The articles call for practically the same conditions as the last bout, with a slightly bigger winning and losing end. White said he was prepared to find backing for $1,000.

Speaking in Vancouver yesterday of his defeat, White said he had little to say other than that he thought the bout should not have been stopped when it was as he felt he could have come back. He admitted that he did not put up a good battle, but declared that his condition was good and he had no excuse except that he had taken cold on the way out to the arena in an auto, and after getting thoroughly chilled and never been properly warmed up. Consequently he had no speed or life in his work. He was very confident, however, that he could take the measure of Bayley, though he admitted he had taken the Victoria boy too cheaply and had underestimated his ability and strength. White says he planned to let Bayley tire himself out in the first ten rounds, but Joe surprised him by refusing to tire.

CAMPI GAINS DECISION.

Los Angeles, Nov. 5.—Eddie Campi, the local bantamweight, easily out-pointed Benny Chavez here in a twenty-round bout. Campi had the better of the bout in nearly every round but could not land a sleep producer. It is understood that Campi will be matched to meet Coulson for the title.

WANTS ANOTHER BOUT

JACK WHITE

Chicago lightweight, says he underestimated Bayley's ability and wants to meet him a second time. Tentative arrangements have been made for a battle at the Steveston Arena, Nov. 14.

TO-DAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS

1814—The Pugilistic Club was founded in London. This was a social organization of the aristocratic patrons of boxing, and included many noblemen. Pugilism had won widespread popularity in England that year as the result of the attendance at a boxing match of the King and his royal guests, the King of Prussia and the Emperor of Russia. Most of the members of the Pugilistic Club were students of Jackson, an ex-champion who had a boxing school in Bond street, where he instructed the young bloods in the many art. The National Sporting Club has succeeded the Pugilistic Club as London's fashionable boxing organization.

1908—Jack (Twin) Sullivan defeated Jim Prendergast in 9 rounds at Halifax.

1911—Bert Nelson and Frank Loughey fought 10-round draw at Troy.

TEAMS CHOSEN FOR TEST RUGBY MATCH

Good Representative Sides Selected for Saturday; Notable Absentees

The following teams were selected by the Rugby selection committee for the test game on Saturday from which the committee will select the players to take part in the McKechnie cup game at Vancouver on the following Saturday. The kick-off is at 2.45 on the Oak Bay grounds. Two notable absentees from the sides are Carew Martin and Hill of the Welsh, both three-quarters of exceptional merit.

"A" team.—Fullback, Gallier (Law Students); three-quarters, Hind (Welsh), D. M. Grant (Wanderers), P. Ogden (Students), Bennett (Wanderers), halves, Shires and Morton (Students), rover G. C. Grant (Wanderers), forwards, Patterson (Wanderers), McCallum (Students), Gray (Students), Willis (Wanderers), Straker (James Bay), R. M. Clarke, W. D. Hill, (Students).

"B" team.—Fullback, Spencer (Wanderers), three-quarters, Nason (James Bay), Hendra (Welsh), Humphreys (Wanderers), E. Gillespie (Students), rover, Newcombe (James Bay), halves, Yates (Wanderers), Bailey (Welsh), forwards, Watkins (Welsh), R. Gillespie (Students), Baum, Acland (Wanderers), Scott, (James Bay), Chalk (Wanderers), Lomas (Welsh), reserves, Knox, Vincent, Scott, Thomas, Sweeney, Meredith.

So far as can be judged the two teams fairly represent the rugby strength of Victoria though there are one or two omissions which are somewhat difficult to understand. However, the work of selectors for Rugby games is always hedged about with more difficulties than the average spectator can reckon, and there may be obstacles in the way of which the general public is not cognizant. However, a very keen struggle may be expected, and the match is fairly sure to provide some of the best Rugby that has been seen in Victoria this season at any rate.

WINNER A CANADIAN.

That the jockey of the Cacesawitch winner is a Canadian is the assertion of John F. Ryan, secretary of the Canadian National Bureau of Breeding, Ltd., who is just back in Canada from England. The horse, Fitz Yama, was ridden by Fred Herbert, and according to Mr. Ryan it was the great ride which Herbert put up which landed Fitz Yama in front. Herbert was born in Hamilton, Ont., and has ridden mounts with considerable success in Canada, the United States, Germany, France and England.

MONTREAL REPORT OF BIG HOCKEY EXCHANGE

Didier Pitre for Lalonde; Lester Patrick Says No Likelihood of Pitre Coming

If "Neway" Lalonde persists in his present position of refusing to come out to the coast for the coming hockey season, it is not impossible, according to a Montreal writer, that a deal will be put through whereby the Patrik's, now owners of Lalonde's hockey services, will trade that player for another great French-Canadian player, to wit: one Didier Pitre, of whom local fans may have heard.

Pitre is at the present time a member of George Kennedy's Canadian team and was tendered a contract this year calling for $800, marking a cut of $200 on what he received last year. Didier was not greatly elated over the salary offered, although it was stipulated that if he played up to the form he showed two seasons ago he would get an advance in the form of a bonus on the figures mentioned in his contract. But Pitre has not yet sent in his contract and has expressed dissatisfaction at the terms.

It is known here that Frank Patrick has not written to Lalonde regarding his reporting to the Coast League, but he feels sure that Neway does not intend to stay back east. Nevertheless Lalonde has expressed a preference for remaining in the east, advancing the fact that he has settled there and intends to open up a business.

Spoken to on the subject this morning, Lester Patrick stated that there was no likelihood at all of Didier Pitre coming to the coast.

SLIGHT WILL TOUR.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Ambo Slight, a Chicagoan who caught for Des Moines this season, has been signed by Owner Comiskey to tour the world with the Sox and Giants. He will start west immediately.

What are Peps?

Peps is the name bestowed upon a new scientific preparation put up in tablet or pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds and lung and throat troubles generally.

Did it never occur to you as peculiar that when you have a cough or a cold, or any chest trouble, you should apply medicine—not to your lungs, but to your stomach?

Look at it the other way round. Suppose you suffered from some stomach complaint—indigestion or ulceration—how strange you would think it if you were asked to take a medicine which had to be breathed in, and which went—not to your stomach, but to your lungs and breathing passages?

There is no connection between the stomach and the lungs (see diagram below), and when for a cold or a cough or any chest complaint you take some medicine, such as liquid cough mixtures, syrups, lozenges, which go—not to your lungs, but to your stomach—you are wasting time.

Peps—this newest remedy for coughs, colds, and lung troubles—goes to the lungs and breathing-tubes, direct. Peps are really fine fumes and certain highly beneficial medicinal extracts specially prepared by a new scientific process and then condensed into tablet form. It is like making a breathable solid!

You put a "Pep" on your tongue and let it dissolve. As it does so it's healing essence it contains runs into vapor, and you BREATHE them direct to your lungs and air passages!

These healing essences pass down your breathing-tubes, bathing all the inflamed surfaces, which kill the germs which cause the trouble. Liquid or solid matter can never reach, in health-giving fine fumes, and carrying health and healing wherever they penetrate.

These fine fumes strengthen, soothe, and liberate from the dissolving Peps are sent out in their operation, they are antiseptic, they kill the germs of consumption, catarrh, and those many and varied throat and lung troubles so common to-day. Peps fumes—like the fumes from nature's pine woods—go direct to the lungs and chest, and give instant relief to colds, tightness, bronchitis, etc. In short, Peps bring pure forest air to your home!

You have a nasty night cough? Take a Pep before going to bed—your cough will not trouble you! Your lungs are a little weak, and going from the warm house into the cold air outside makes you cough? Just before going out put a Pep in your mouth—there will be no coughing! Your throat feels "stuffed up," your chest feels tight, and you put breathing troubles? Peps will put matters right for you very quickly. Peps, while gradually turning to vapor as soon as put into the mouth, will retain their goodness indefinitely if kept dry. Each little Peps pastille is packed in an air-tight wrapping, which is easily removed, and they are packed in neat little boxes. They are not sticky (the minister or public speaker can carry a few loose in the vest pocket); they do not spoil the appetite and ruin the digestion, like cough syrups and mixtures do; and they DO cure coughs, colds and lung trouble!

Just as the out-door treatment for consumption—the "breathing" treatment—is now admitted to be the only rational treatment, so the "Peps" treatment for colds and lung troubles is the only rational home treatment. Peps cure catarrh, coughs, bronchitis, sore throat, tightness or aching across the chest, difficulty in breathing, night cough, hoarseness, asthma, laryngitis, smoker's throat, etc. Best for children because free from opium, morphine, or any poison.

All drug stores and stores sell Peps at 50c. a box or 8 for $1.25. Should your dealer be out of stock, order direct (post paid) from Peps Co., Dupont St., Toronto, or 52 Princess St., Winnipeg.

FREE TRIAL.—The proprietors wish this great discovery to be widely appreciated, and have decided to offer a free trial packet to all persons who would like to test this unique remedy. Cut out this article, write across it the name of this paper, and mail it to Peps Co., Toronto, or 52 Princess Street, Winnipeg, enclosing 1 cent stamp to pay for return postage. A free trial packet of Peps will be mailed you by return.

If you have a friend suffering from a cough, cold, or any throat or lung trouble, hand this on.

PEPS

It is said that the late Father Stanton once met a drunken man who was clinging for support to a lamp-post. The parson approached him, and in a friendly way suggested that it would be better for him if he took less liquor. The wretched man turned unsteadily, still clinging to the lamp-post, and said: "I am a teetotaler. Yes, a real one. But I am not one of those teetotal fellows."

BANKERS' TRUST CASE AGAIN BEFORE JURY

Second Trial Began Yesterday Afternoon; Jury Being Kept in Sheriff's Charge

This morning the taking of evidence in the second trial of the Bankers' Trust case, in which F. C. Cook and J. O. Hearn are charged with conspiracy to defraud subscribers to the stock of the corporation, commenced, a jury having been empanelled yesterday afternoon.

The trial will begin at 10.30 o'clock each morning, and will continue until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, with one hour and a half for lunch. By this means, and with a shortening up of the testimony by agreement between the counsel engaged, it is hoped materially to shorten the proceedings, which will run into next week in any event.

H. G. Garrett, registrar of joint stock companies, was called to give formal evidence as to the incorporation of the several companies in which the accused were interested.

John E. Allen, secretary of the Bankers' Trust and now liquidator of the concern, was the chief witness of the day.

On his lordship taking his seat on the bench yesterday afternoon Sheriff Richards, who had meanwhile called over the entire jury panel, notified him that there was one juror on the old list and three jurors on the new list who did not answer to their names. Besides these there were twenty men on the new list of seventy-five who could not be located.

Mr. Aikman had it noted on the record that he renewed all the objections made and overruled at the first trial, and accused again declined to plead.

Counsel then moved to strike out the new panel for alleged irregularities and because the judge's order for the summoning of seventy-five jurors had not been complied with inasmuch as only fifty-five had been summoned. He argued that the sheriff and registrar should have selected the requisite number of names, and added that to the other jury panel, and that then the sheriff should have summoned the men so chosen. What had happened, he claimed, was that the men had been summoned, twenty not being found, and that then the names of those summoned had been written in on the list. His lordship expressed himself as quite satisfied with the action of the officers of the court, and held the list to be a good one. There was no hint that there had been anything improper in the summoning of the new jurors or that anyone had been summoned whose name had not been previously selected by the registrar and sheriff, he said.

The empaneling of a jury occupied forty minutes and fifty-five jurors were called before twelve men were chosen. Twenty were challenged by the crown, eleven by J. A. Aikman for Cook and eleven by George E. Powell for Hearn. In addition five jurors were stood aside by the court, two of them on their assuring his lordship that they had already made up their minds on the case. The jury as sworn consists of:

John Trace (foreman), Albert E. Yardley, William Daniel, Fred T. Pious, Charles R. Jenner, James Dick, William J. Johnson, John Lloyd, Kelly, William R. Irvine, William Keddy, George J. Fulton and William Scott. Crown Prosecutor Robertson then addressed the jury, outlining the case, which the crown expected to prove, and which he said would be presented chronologically. The judge followed this up with a reminder to the jury that they were not to be affected by what they heard in the address, which was only meant to assist them in understanding the evidence to be put in.

Mr. Robertson informed the court that he had been instructed by the attorney-general to ask that the jury be not allowed to separate.

His lordship agreed with this, and speaking to the jurors he said he was speaking for them, but he was not very much surprised after the mistrial had taken place. If the other jury had been kept together, as used to be the practice, it was possible that there might not have been a mistrial. He commended the jurors to the good offices of the sheriff, and told them to let him know if they did not get all they desired.

LEAVE OVER CONTRACT

School Board Desires Finance Committee to Confer Before Signing Contract for Paving.

Owing to the difficulty of selling the balance of the debentures still outstanding for school purposes, the city school board last evening determined to postpone signing up the contract for the Quadra street school with Stevens Brothers till after a conference of the board finance committee with the finance committee of the city council prior to the monthly meeting to-day week. The board is anxious not to reject the present tenders, which are unusually low.

The board also went on record in favor of personal sureties for the completion of the contract, in place of representatives of companies.

In connection with the High school building, upon which Dinsdale & Malcolm's contract is almost finished at the request of the contractors it was determined to advance them $5,000 out of the 15 per cent hold-back, in order to meet other payments at once.

The board adopted recommendations of the building and grounds committee to award contracts (1) for sheet metal work on Holywood Manual Training Building to H. Cooley & Sons, $450; (2) sheet metal work on Quadra Street Manual Training Building at $384 to H. Cooley & Sons; (3) electrical wiring of both schools to Hawkins & Hayward, and Carter & McKenzie, to divide the contract at $90 and $66.75 respectively; (4) brick work on Quadra street; (5) brick work on Sidney Island Brick & Tile Company at $12.55 per thousand.

Favorable comment was made on an offer of the electrical contractors for the High school to place the five feed wires in conduits from Gladstone avenue, at a cost of $2,518, in order to save the grounds around the school from being disfigured by poles, and to avoid the interruption to service by atmospheric conditions.

The use of the Pemberton gymnasium on one day a week for the Gordon Highlanders to train was approved.

ENCOURAGE COMPOSERS

Marie Rappold Would Like Public to Patronize Operas as Well as Singers.

"It is often regrettable that the reputation of the singer draws bigger audiences in America than the work performed," says Marie Rappold, who is to sing to-night at the Victoria theatre. "American people go to the work of the composer, and not the some particular singer and not the work of the composer. In other countries this is not so invariably the rule. It often happens that remarkably good performances are missed by the public, who are only drawn to the opera house when some great operatic celebrity is singing. It is gratifying to note a very much more intelligent and artistic taste throughout the entire country, Chicago, San Francisco, Boston and Philadelphia for instance."

Mme. Rappold has expressed the idea that it is difficult to gain an audience for a new work, and that for this condition the public is greatly to blame. Managers would be willing and glad to bring out novelties if the public could be found to "appreciate" them. To-morrow is a novelty, but it leaped into immediate and enormous appreciation, largely due to the fact that the work bore the direct evidence of inspiration. Operas did not come out of nowhere, but were born of the artistic enthusiasm and intellectual exuberance of the trained composer.

The programme this evening is arranged to include two sets of German lieder, some French and some Italian numbers, together with a trio of English songs. Boyd Wells, who is to accompany the singer, will give a short series of piano-forte solo.

Until Released by Wonderful Samaria Prescription.

Liquor sets up inflammation and irritation of the stomach and weakens the nerves. The steady or periodical (spree) drinker is often forced to drink even against his will by his unsteady physical condition. Samaria Prescription stops the craving, steadies the nerves, builds up the general health and makes drink actually distasteful and nauseous. It is tasteless and odorless and can be given with or without the knowledge of the patient.

Thousands of Canadian homes have been saved from misery and disgrace by some devoted wife, mother or daughter through this wonderful Canadian remedy. The money formerly wasted in drink has restored happiness, home comforts, education and respect to the families formerly in want and despair.

Read the following, one of the numerous unsolicited testimonials received:

"I can never repay you for your remedy. It is worth more than life to me. My husband has been offered liquor several times, but would not touch it. He said it had no charm for him now. May God's chosen blessings ever rest on you and yours as my prayers ever. As soon as I can I will see others that I know would give anything to stop their husbands from drinking. I will give them your address, if you please."

TO INVESTIGATE

Inspector of Weights to Look Into Employment Question; Registrations to Be Received.

An investigation will be conducted on behalf of the city council by A. G. Robertson, inspector of weights and measures, into the history and necessities of hard-pressed married men with families who are out of employment in the city now, in order that the most deserving cases may be found. The intention is to give them the preference in city work. Registrations are to be made in the city council, where a bureau has been in existence for some time, of which exclusive use for the purpose will now be made, all applications being selected from the list there.

While the city engineer is to report upon the subject for to-morrow afternoon's meeting of the city council, there is to be no delay in aiding urgent cases. The engineer has been asked to devise a method by which relief works may be inaugurated so far as funds allow, and thus as far as possible prevent the disorganization of the works staff which might follow the adoption of the city council.

Alderman Humber pointed out when the subject came before the council on Monday that it is regrettable that the public works projected for the harbor are not in a more advanced stage, absorbing more men.

The labor commission had evidence from one of the union officials of the carpenters that there are two-thirds of the carpenters working and are probably the proportion is less in other building trades. The hope is expressed that the provincial government will lend a patient ear to the application for the inauguration of clearing work on the roads in the old reserve, or some other works of a character which can be done in the rainy season. There are three large contracts in progress now in the district, upon which, however, the amount of labor to be absorbed is limited.

The largest contract of a public character now contemplated is the Jubilee hospital. The architects are working on the plans, and expect to be ready by the end of the year to call for tenders from British Columbia contractors.

SHORTAGE RECTIFIED

Weights Inspector Robertson Says $20,000 a Year Was Lost to the Citizens of Victoria on Butter.

That the citizens of Victoria were being deprived of some $20,000 a year in short weight on butter alone is the opinion of Pair Weights Inspector A. G. Robertson, after an exhaustive canvass of the butter dealers in Victoria. He declares that this has been done through the widespread practice of giving 15 to 16 ounce weight short on every pound of butter sold in some three-fourths of the stores handling butter.

That the retailers were not to blame entirely Mr. Robertson adds. He states that sales were made from boxes of half a hundred weight in bulk, from which the butter was cut. Through his investigation a reform has been effected by which makers have altered methods, and retailers corrected their methods.

Taking as the average the modest consumption of 1,000 pounds a day in the city he considers the above estimate well within the bounds of reason. That is a small average for the population of Greater Victoria, for though his figures deal only with stores within the municipal limits, yet much of the butter purchased by suburban residents comes from downtown stores.

The desire was to rectify this set of conditions rather by peaceful suggestion than by taking cases to the police court to enforce prosecutions. The inspector says he finds that the increased attention on the part of the city officials is welcomed rather than impeded, as the object of the inquiry is better understood.

MAY HOLD MASS MEETING.

Trades and Labor Council Will Be Asked This Evening to Determine Policy for Elections.

This evening the Trades and Labor Council will be asked by the Victoria Laborers' Protective Union to adopt the policy followed last year, and leave the nomination of candidates for the forthcoming municipal elections to a mass meeting to be called at an early date.

It is expected that the platform of the party will be taken as the basis for approval of the candidates selected. Last year five labor candidates ran for the city council and two candidates for the school board. This year in the latter case the nominees will have not only to be householders, but must have the property qualification required of an alderman.

INTERESTING LECTURE

Rev. J. G. Inkster Delivered Pleasing Address on Orkney Islands; To Repeat It.

Nearly 500 people were present at the First Presbyterian Church on Monday night to hear the illustrated lecture on the Orkney Islands delivered by Rev. J. G. Inkster. The subject was most entertainingly presented, the land of the midnight twilight and "the home of the Vikings" being copiously illustrated by beautiful lantern slides, which were both original and striking.

In the course of his lecture, which was given under the auspices of the Young Men's Club, the speaker dealt with the geography of the island, its history, etc., in connection with the latter giving a resume of the Pictish, Norwegian, and Scottish periods through which it had gone. Illustrations of the customs and habits of the people, as recorded in the remains and ruins of the ancient civilizations still found in many parts of the islands, were cited, and the lecturer gave a very enlightening description on the fishing and agricultural industries of the place. These, he said, were the two staple occupations of the people. Minor industries, such as kelp-burning, marking Orkney stools, straw-braiding, meal-making, etc., also flourished.

In conclusion Mr. Inkster showed a number of vividly realistic views of the scenery of the islands, which testified in some measure to the cause for the great popularity which this part of the British Isles enjoys among tourists of the better class.

A motion of hearty thanks was accorded Mr. Inkster at the close of his address, which is to be repeated on Friday afternoon at the annual session of the Public School Teachers' Association which meets at George Jay School at that time.

WORK AND WAGES

IS A GREAT PLAY

There are fourteen speaking parts in the play at the Princess this week, and every one of them is a perfectly balanced, well rounded out character. Never has the versatility of the Williams Stock Co. been displayed to better advantage than in their portrayal. The pathetic figure of Nell the factory girl, who loves one far above her, Old man Ansel, who has worked in the mill as man and boy for fifty years, Schwartz the hard handed, hard headed striker who demands his rights, are some of the unique creations of this wonderfully written play. And on the other side Polly the dear little country girl, who insists that her lover shall build the nest before he asks her to share it, Margaret the pearl who fits into her beautiful setting, Warner the man who has risen to the position of superintendent, but stands the test and casts his lot with the workers from whom he came, all fill out a class of play, of which we see too few in these days of degenerating drama.

"EVERYKID" AT VICTORIA.

At the Victoria theatre on November 13, 14 and 15 the Victoria Amateur Dramatic Club will open their winter season with a new musical farce comedy entitled "Everykid," by Colonel Hobday and R. N. Hinks. "Everykid" is unusual in as much as it is a farce with a plot. It is a good natured skit on the morality play of "Everywoman," which was seen in Victoria a few weeks ago. The authors have treated their travesty as a fantastic mixture of the pantomime re-hearsal, a thrilling blank verse melodrama and the merriest of musical features. An excellent cast has been got together which will be well-supported by the "Everykid" beauty chorus.

EXPERIMENT IN ALBERTA

Attorney-General Cross Believes in Value of New Unearned Increment Tax.

The first experiment in America with Lloyd-George's unearned increment tax has been made in Alberta, and Attorney-General Cross, who is in the city on a few days' visit, following the completion of the labors of the legislature of that province, is most optimistic of its success.

"We have put a tax of five per cent on the difference between the assessed value of property this year and any increase which may be shown in a sale. Thus if a lot was assessed at $2,000 this year and at any time in the future was sold at $3,000 the vendor would have to pay the government $50. It is only right that this value which is created by the people, not by the owner, should be shared by the people."

This is Mr. Cross' opinion.

INTERIM INJUNCTION.

Telephone Number 5041 Must Not Be Used by Anyone for the Next Week.

When the application of Thomas Hardy for an interlocutory injunction came up this morning in chambers before Mr. Justice Murphy his counsel, D. S. Tall, informed the court that he had served notice on the B. C. Telephone Co., and B. O. Taylor, but that D. J. Anderson was absent from the city.

There was no appearance for any of the defendants. Mr. Tall asked that the court grant his client an injunction restraining them from using telephone number 5,041, and a mandatory injunction ordering the telephone company to restore the service which they took away from Mr. Hardy and gave to Mr. Taylor under the same number.

His lordship granted an interim injunction for one week, restraining the defendants from using this telephone, and ordered that they be served again to appear next Wednesday to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent.

ARTICLE VI. HIGH COST OF LIVING

It is with the high cost of living in British Columbia that this series of articles is primarily concerned. Whatever attack is made upon high tariffs—responsible, to a degree, as they are for the high cost of living throughout Canada—must be made by the federal electorate as a whole. With the immediate example of the United States and the obvious effect of tariff reduction in that country so soon to be observed it will be but a short time until Canadians awaken to the injustice of tariff taxes upon the necessities of life. In seeking, therefore, a solution of the problems of costly living in British Columbia, the tariff issue may be temporarily eliminated.

It is not so, however, with transportation extortions. These can be effectively eliminated only by home production. When everything in the nature of soil products is grown in British Columbia that British Columbians need there will be no serious transportation problem. The terms of the "Brewer-McBride" agreement between the Bowser-McBride government and the Canadian Northern railway the province has the control of freight rates, and it will be within the power of any government to dictate the schedule of rates upon which transportation shall be carried on. That is, if the agreement is any good. If it proves to be unworkable or otherwise useless the people of the province will know whom to blame and will add another paragraph to the indictments of the present government. It will be only a memory, of course, but even memories are sometimes advantageously used in preventing similar egregious errors.

The long and short of it is, then, if we were producing all we require in this province the cost of living would be materially reduced. And if the question were asked as to our capability of producing all we require the answer must be that we can. But, at ten years ago the present administration had been seized of the provincial situation; if it had paid the slightest attention to the lessons of the century, if it had seen about the task of making a great and wealthy wealth-producing province of British Columbia, we should have today one of the most prosperous provinces in the whole Dominion.

Wealth Derived From the Soil.
It may be taken as generally true of any and every nation capable of agricultural development that where agriculture flourishes the whole country flourishes. Artificial paucity may be created by the money kings, but natural paucity originates in the failure of crops. A succession of poor crops will bankrupt any country; no amount of financial activity can keep it prosperous. Industrial activity is, at best, but an handmaiden to agriculture. It is not to be despised or its importance minimized, but it depends upon the steady, even production of the things which come up from the soil.

Wherein British Columbia lacks prosperity to-day is that people have been kept off the soil. We have, without the slightest doubt, come to the end of that species of prosperity born of the dictum that "We must give the speculator his chance." There never can be another such era of prosperity in the province if it is to be evolved from speculative practices. The speculator has had his chance and whether he is wealthy or land poor he or his class, never can recover themselves by further speculation along the paths which have been so numerous traveled since the advent of the McBride regime.

To lay the foundations of permanent prosperity in the province we must go back to where we were ten years ago and begin to do now the things that should have been begun ten years ago. Had the foundations of agricultural development been laid then in a wise land policy; had our accidentally-elected political leaders exercised at that time even a moderate degree of statesmanship we should now be far on the way to that measure of home production which would meet the demands of our growing urban markets.

foreign and overseas countries, we should now be in a position to defy security and our abundant production would modify the price of the necessities of life.

There are many angles from which facts and figures may be viewed and the same object viewed from different angles presents different appearances. There have been several series of figures presented in these articles (all ugly and repugnant figures it is true, but there still remains one comparison which is necessary to present in order that we may have travelled all round the comparison respecting imported foodstuffs and the home product. The reader has seen these comparisons exhibited in quantities (bushels, pounds, boxes, etc.), and in values (dollars and cents), but he has yet to see them in opposite relations. The figures quoted below are for the year 1912, and it must not be forgotten that the conditions criticised were much worse in 1912. Credit for this comparison must again be given to Mr. H. A. Stone, president of the Vancouver Board of Trade (1912), as both figures and argument are his. He says:

"Now, as to the total of farm produce now marketed, and the amount it is necessary for us to purchase from sources outside the province, the last figures given us are those of the Hon. Price Ellison in his budget speech for 1911, a minister whom the province is fortunate in having as one who is in personal sympathy with agriculture, and generally speaking, favorable to government assistance to farming.

"The total production was 208 millions and the imports 148 millions; if we compare these figures we find in round numbers that of

"So of the following five staple farm products, fruit, cheese, poultry, eggs and meats—our production is only 28 millions of a consumption of over 284 millions. This surely is not a creditable showing after twenty years of farming in British Columbia. The only item we appear to produce a sufficiency of is vegetables, which production is considerably due to the industrious Oriental.

"Flour—the most staple of all necessities, is almost all imported, and if included in these figures would greatly increase them to our disadvantage. Aside from this shortage of production and an important reason for the encouragement of farming, is the necessity of having a sound and firm industrial foundation for the building up of our fluctuating natural industries.

"The large importations of farm products carried to the settler as assurance of a good home market, and is an additional reason for the government to encourage settlement and to assist in the development of partly cleared or partly drained existing farms."

Not a New Complaint.

While in other paragraphs of his address before the Board of Trade, Mr. Stone deplors the abandonment of farms and their sale to land syndicates in order that they may be "cut up into 25-foot lots," it will be observed that the burden of his complaint, as, indeed, it is the burden of the complaint of all thoughtful citizens of the province, is that the government has studiously ignored the necessity of devising some practical method of encouraging settlement of arable lands and assisting home production among those who are already bringing land under cultivation. This is by no means a new or latter-day grievance against the McBride government. Beginning with the year 1905, just two years after the present government acceded to power, numerous public bodies and private corporations directed the attention of the ruling powers to existing conditions, and every year since, with increasing persistence, this increasing gravity of the situation has been brought to the attention of the administration. In 1907 the Liberal opposition in the legislature outlined a policy of land settlement and encouragement of agriculture including all the plausible theories of assistance practicable at that time or since. Yet in 1913 the province is not only no better off but much worse off than five or six years ago.

Much Land Available.

It is not because there is a lack of land susceptible to agricultural development and profitable cultivation that these conditions exist. The government bulletins, pamphlets and advertising matter as well as the public statements of ministers of the crown, both at home and abroad, give the flat contradiction to such a supposition. Hon. W. J. Bowser, in a public address delivered in Vancouver on Friday, October 24, is reported to have said that there are 1,500,000 acres of "surveyed" lands available for settlers and 100,000,000 of "unsurveyed" lands also so available. The total of this sum of available lands is 1,600,000 acres. The total area of the province (as given in Gosnell's year book of British Columbia) is 257,560,000 acres. So, if Mr. Bowser's estimate is correct only 25,000,000 acres less than one-half of the entire area of British Columbia is, under the beneficent rule of the twin autocrats, available for settlement. And Mr. Bowser stated that one and one-half millions of acres are "ready for occupancy" by settlers on payment of $2 per acre, an additional sum of $10 and another $2 for record. These lands are said (by Mr. Bowser) to be "along the lines of the G. F. P. and the P. G. E. railway" and "there are maps available to show the settler where to go."

Somebody Lies.

Two weeks ago, when the writer of these articles estimated the agricultural lands of the province at a little more than 80,000,000 acres, a government statistician wrote a letter to the press declaring my estimate absurd and nonchalantly limiting the available arable lands at 15,000,000 acres. Between Mr. Bowser's apparent fondness for the superlative and for hyperbole in his speech and the modest humility of the government statistician I am inclined to take the middle course. I am inclined to accept the statement made by Mr. Maxwell Smith at Winnipeg two years ago when, addressing a public gathering there on the subject of fruit culture, he stated that "there are 50,000,000 acres of agricultural land in British Columbia available for agricultural purposes, 2,000,000 acres of which is capable of fruit production." What will not be denied by any unprejudiced person is that, had the McBride government laid the foundations of land settlement and agricultural development in British Columbia ten years ago ten times as much of the agricultural area, let it be great or small, would be under cultivation as is under cultivation to-day. And that is the gravamen of this one indictment of the McBride administration. With ten times as much agricultural production we should, within ourselves, overcome the four and three-eighths millions of imports out of the seven millions of consumption estimated in the figures for 1912. In fact we should do more than that; we should have foodstuffs to send abroad.

The Government's Answer.

With these repeated indictments—this succession of charges laid at the door of the administration—indictments made by representative men in the Liberal party as opposed to the government and confronted with these criticisms of their administration by responsible non-partisan bodies throughout the province, what is the attitude of the Bowser-McBride autocracy to their accusers? Attorney-General Bowser, in a political harangue delivered before one of his ward associations in Vancouver on Friday, October 24, said he "felt that the government had done its whole duty in preparing the way for settlement." The reports of the address containing this remarkable self-solacing conclusion on the part of Mr. Bowser say that he spent some time in telling his hearers what the administration "proposes" to do in regard to dry farming tests in Cariboo, and also what was "being done" for fruit farmers in the Okanagan and Kootenays in the way of subsidies for cold storage plants and market agencies. In concluding his address Mr. Bowser pleaded for patience on the part of the people. Admitting that the financing of settlers was not likely to be at its best for a time, the patient people would find, in the end, that the policy of the present government was the best possible in the interests of the people and a credit to the province.

So there you are. Under the benevolent regime of the Bowser-McBride administration, "Man never is but always to be blest." Thoughtful students of the trend of economic events in British Columbia, who have been upon the watch towers for ten years looking at the signs of the times, and beholding them at first gradually, but now rapidly growing worse, are told to "have patience" and all will yet be well. Exuberant of promises but absolutely guiltless of performance, the twin-autocrats have dashed before the electorate the illusory prospect of good times to come, better times to come, best times yet to come, without taking any of the steps necessary to ensure these good times. And now the evil days have come upon us. We are paying two prices for everything we eat simply because land settlement has been made impossible and agricultural development left unassisted.

When one of the two government chiefs assures his ward followers that the government has done the best that it could make a tacit admission that he knows no way of bettering present conditions. The incontestable conviction is that, under his regime, things will never be better simply because no one in government circles knows how to make them better. The only explicit promise made by the attorney-general is a promise that immigrants shall be "hand picked." Any one who knows the "system" of the twin-autocrats knows this to mean that no person will be encouraged to come to British Columbia during the McBride regime who does not pledge himself to vote, first, last and always for the McBride government. That Mr. Bowser's audience so understood him is evident from the fact that they are reported to have cheered lustily at this announcement.

Sir Richard's Version.

While Mr. Bowser declares there are more than two million acres of agricultural land available for pre-emption, and that maps and directions are available "to show them where to go," Sir Richard McBride has quite a different explanation of the policy of the government. It is a great pity, for the public at least, that these two gigantic intellects do not, once in a long while, get together and compare notes so that a consistent line of argument is followed in the public proclamations of their policy. It is a greater pity that they do not read each other's speeches, occasionally so as to be able better to steer clear of the contradictions between their public utterances upon their land policy.

At a Conservative gathering held in New Westminster on June 2, 1913, to celebrate the tenth year of McBride rule, Sir Richard delivered himself to a statement as to the policy of the government respecting lands available for settlement and the government conception of the best methods of settlement. In this address Sir Richard said:

"Mr. Ross has spoken of the land policy of the government. There had been criticism, criticism which had been unfair and unmanly, in the columns of the Liberal press about the land policy. They had spoken of pre-emption and had criticised the government. He would say that as quickly as they could survey and build roads they would have pre-emptors. But, until they had these things, which they were establishing as quickly as they could, they did not intend to encourage pre-emptors. It would not be fair to other people."

What might have been in Sir Richard's mind when he stated that the encouragement of pre-emptors before they had roads surveyed and built would "not be fair to other people,"

only the mind-reader can know. Whether he meant that to encourage land settlement by pre-emption would be unfair to the horde of speculators who have acquired the best lands in the province in the expectation and hope of making huge fortunes out of exorbitant prices for their holdings, has often been asked, and as often suggested as the answer to the community. Certainly, to open lands for settlement upon any policy which would give the bona fide homestead access to available areas at a minimum cost for his farm would frustrate the practical policy of the horde of Sir Richard's favorites who have paid their 50 cents an acre for the privilege of holding up the public in its efforts to get on the land. Free land would make purchasable land comparatively worthless, or at least marketless, and there is a multitude of Sir Richard's one-time admirers who maintain that this and this only is the reason the government does not adopt a modern and practical policy of land settlement.

At any rate Bowser answers his critics by stating that "there are millions of acres available for settlement" at a minimum cost, and Sir Richard says to encourage the settlement of these lands by building roads and conducting surveys "would not be fair to other people." Go to the government land offices then and get your maps, locate on any tract of these "millions of acres" that you like, for a minimum sum, as stated by Mr. Bowser, but do not hope for surveys or roads from Sir Richard as this "would not be fair to other people."

Sum and Substance.

No rational man will contend that the Bowser-McBride autocracy has answered its critics. No reasonable person can say they have given the slightest intimation that they intend to change the policy which has brought British Columbia to its present state of languishing agriculture. No one can safely predict that another ten years of McBride rule will see this province progress as far as the last ten years. Starting with the shallow theory that temporary prosperity is better than permanent progress the government now finds itself unable to retreat or alter its policy. It must keep the bargain it has made with its host of friends to whom it has alienated the crown resources, for its very life depends upon keeping faith with these even if keeping faith should mean the further desolation of the province.

British Columbia, the fairest province of Canada, richest in its resources of every kind and with agricultural areas sufficiently large to feed the teeming populace which her industrial development, forced to its utmost, could demand, pays to-day two prices for every spoonful of food put into the mouths of its populace, whether infants or aged men and women, and this condition is the direct result of the failure or a profligate government to apply itself to the primary tasks of statesmanship. We shall not better conditions by continuing such government in power. Promise after promise the autocrats have made has failed. There is scarcely a good thing they have pledged themselves to bring about that has been accomplished. For a mess of pottage they have sold our heritage. We revelled in pseudo prosperity for a time. We must now revert to the policy which should have been adopted at first and begin to do today, what we should now be far on the way toward accomplishment.

Bitter invective will not answer these charges. Falsified figures and high sounding phrases will not again deceive the people. We have had too much of these. The government has not made good. While speculative capital fanned the breezes and sailing was smooth the McBride autocracy took every shred of credit for the prosperity. Let it now take the responsibility for the decadence of this prosperity. Let it answer the men who are out of work with winter at their heels as to what they are to do.

Had they provided for and encouraged land settlement, as other provinces and overseas dominions have done, they might point these to the way of relief. But because of their folly it is, for them, too late.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

Alexander Mackenzie, the Scotch-Canadian-Liberal statesman, who in 1873 became leader of the opposition in Dominion politics, was sent for by the Governor-General, Lord Dufferin, in the fifth year, on the fifth day of November, to form a new administration, in succession to that of Sir John Macdonald, who had been in power during the six years since Confederation. The new premier was in many ways a contrast to his predecessor, though both hailed from "Bonnie Scotland." Mackenzie was a man of few words, or at least of rare promises. Indeed, according to a biographer of his rival, "It seemed but to try to do a great deal," while with Sir John "Nothing was impossible—it was an easy matter to promise." Mackenzie had been brought up to the trade of a stone-cutter, and was largely self-educated. From his early years he had been a great reader, and had taken a deep interest in history and economic questions. He was premier for a little less than five years, going down in the elections of 1878, before Macdonald's "National Policy." Soon afterwards he fell seriously ill, but lingered on till the spring of 1882.

General Philip Schuyler's letter to the American Congress, in which he recommended a winter campaign for the "liberation" of Canada, bore date of November 4, 1777, 136 years ago. The document passed practically unnoticed by the Congress, but the plan was appropriated by General Gates, Schuyler's enemy, although Gates had no intention of carrying it out. Gates appointed the Marquis de Lafayette to the command of the army of invasion and dispatched him to Albany. Arrived there, the Frenchman was disappointed and disgusted by the lack of preparation and the delusive statements of Gates. "I do not believe," he wrote to Washington, "I can find 1,200 men fit for duty—and the quarter part of these are naked—even for a summer campaign." The Marquis soon found that the "Canadian invasion" was only a trick of Gates to get him away from Washington. Lafayette contented himself with exhorting the "barbarians of Canada" to look upon the English as their enemies, but the appeal fell as flat as previous ones from other sources.

November 4 was the birthday of Watson Griffin, author and journalist, at Hamilton, Ont., 1869; of Senator Racoul Dandurand, at Montreal, 1861; and of the Rev. Alexander Charles Garrett, long an Anglican missionary in British Columbia and afterward Bishop of Dallas, Texas, at Rallymot, Ireland, 1832. On this date in 1875 the steamer Pacific, from Victoria, B. C., to California, foundered off Cape Flattery, with a loss of 150 lives.

SCRAP BOOK.

English Militants May Emulate Guy Fawkes.

This is Guy Fawkes Day in England—the anniversary of the discovery of the plot of Guy Fawkes and his fellow conspirators to send king, lords and commons sky-rocketing in one grand explosion by springing a gunpowder mine under Parliament house, November 5, 1605. Once the great patriotic festival of English youngsters, Guy Fawkes Day is no longer generally observed, and only a few cling to the time-honored customs of lighting bonfires on Guy Fawkes night and eating "parkin." The latter is a cake made of oatmeal, molasses and ginger, and for centuries its consumption has been inseparably connected with the fifth of November festival.

In threatening to blow up public buildings the English militant suffragists have but followed the example of Guy Fawkes and the others implicated in the gunpowder plot. If the "wild women" should seriously undertake the job, however, it is highly probable that their destructive efforts would have more serious results than did the plot of the seventeenth century conspirators. They were mere men, and lacked the finesse of the bashi-bazouks of the twentieth century.

Religious animosities such as now threaten to engulf Ireland in a sea of trouble were responsible for the Guy Fawkes plot. The laws of Elizabeth, in relation to Roman Catholics, had been characterized by injustice. With the coming of James I. to the throne the adherents of Rome expected an amelioration of their condition, but against them were enforced with vigor.

In retaliation, Robert Catesby, Guy Fawkes and other Catholics hatched the gunpowder plot. Thirty-six barrels of the explosive were stored in a vault under parliament house, to which access was had by digging a tunnel through a stone wall nine feet thick. The king was to convene parliament on the fifth of November, when Guy Fawkes was to fire the powder and send monarch and lawmakers to destruction. A letter of warning sent to one of the Catholic lords resulted in the discovery of the conspiracy before it could be put into effect. Guy Fawkes was put to the torture, but refused to confess or give the names of his fellow plotters, and with his lips still sealed he was sent to the scaffold. Several other prominent Catholics were also executed. By an act of parliament the fifth of November was proclaimed a day of thanksgiving forever.

Rhode Island recently erected a memorial to Thomas William Dorr, the "rebel" who was born in Providence 108 years ago to-day. Dead, Dorr is honored as a pure patriot by his native state, from which he once fled with a price upon his head, later to be captured, convicted of high treason, and sentenced to imprisonment for life. Thus the traitor and rebel of one age becomes the hero of another—which gives rise to the reflection that London may yet erect a statue of Mrs. Pankhurst, and Patterson build a monument to "Bill" Haywood. The leader of "Dorr's rebellion" lived to see the record of his sentence expunged and his party in legal possession of the state government. During his career as a rebel Dorr was almost universally denounced by his countrymen, with the luminous exception of Thomas Jefferson, who declared that every citizen should have a rebellion in each generation just to keep alive the sentiment of liberty.

FIRST THINGS

The first settlement on the site of Topeka, the capital of Kansas, was made in 1854, but it did not become the seat of government until November 5, 1861, just fifty-two years ago to-day. Lecompton had been the capital of the territory, but with the admission of Kansas to the Union the choice of a capital rested between Topeka and Lawrence. The former received 1,596 votes to Lawrence's 5,291. During the days preceding the civil war Kansas was "a dark and bloody ground," and from its beginning Topeka was the scene of many exciting encounters between the opponents and defenders of slavery. In 1857 it was incorporated as a city. The first citying of Kansas was laid out later in 1854. Atchison was laid out later in the same year, as were Lawrence and Topeka. Other important "cities" in Kansas of the '50's included Doniphan, Elwood, Lecompton, Manhattan, Oswatimie and Tecumseh. Some of these places are now mere villages, while other early settlements have long since vanished from the map, while Kansas City, Wichita, Hutchinson, Pittsburg and other cities of more recent growth have become prominent.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA, GAS OR INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" Settles Sour, Upset Stomachs in Five Minutes

Time It! Pape's Diapepsin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach surely within five minutes.
If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapepsin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home.

To the educated ad reader, QUALITY OF GOODS is of first importance — price — concessions — secondary.

SIR RICHARD BACK TELLS OF HIS TRIP

Arranged Site for Agent-General's Office; Will Have to Pay More for Loans

"I have been away somewhat longer than I intended," said Sir Richard Back-bridge this morning on his return after a twelve weeks' trip to the Old Country and Eastern Canada. "However, I have been very busy and successful, and have been enabled to take up while in the Old Country many matters relative to British Columbia and give them that attention which will I trust be profitable to the country. The financial situation is the all-absorbing topic. The stringency of the money markets is felt all over Canada, but the stability of British Columbia credit, the development plans under way and the brilliant future before us should in themselves convince any one that although there may be a slackness of business at the present time it cannot last long. I look with more assurance than ever on the future of the country and feel more determined than ever in the efforts of myself and my colleagues to forward the interests of the province."

He discussed the matter of municipal bonds in the Old Country, and there is no doubt that the municipalities will have to pay more for their money than ever before.

Sir Richard mentioned that he had taken steps towards putting up a suitable building for the agent-general in Regent street, very close to Trafalgar Square. The objection of the provincial agents to the proposed Westminster site for his offices, Sir Richard said, he knew nothing about, as that was quite a different matter from the provincial offices.

The prime minister also referred to the conference of premiers at Ottawa when he said a controversy arose over the claim of the maritime provinces for a fixed representation in the House of Commons. The request was, of course, not entertained. The premiers also sent a resolution asking larger subsidies for the provinces from Ottawa. The matter of the northern deanery, proposed by the rural dean, Canon
Leakey, report of the board of governors, first annual report of the Theological College, and report of the executive committee of the diocese for the year,
the finance committee, and report on the widows' and orphans' fund.

Nominations were made for members
of the executive committee for the coming year, for which eight clergy
and eight laity were required, the existing members of such committee already including the bishop of the diocese, the dean, Archdeacon Scriven,
the chancellor, the registrar, the treasurer, J. M. Stewart, and the Rev.
F. W. Blankenhach. Nominations
for delegates, four clergy and four laity, to attend the general synod to be held in September, 1914, at Vancouver, together with substitutes for each
in the event of the original nominees
being unable to attend.

The meeting adjourned at 1.10, and convened again at 2.30 to hear the report of the scrutineers of nominations.

NOMINATIONS MADE AND REPORTS HEARD

Synod of Columbia Diocese
Starts Work; Attendance is Large

The first session of the fourteenth synod of the diocese of Columbia met this morning in Christ Church schoolroom, following Holy Communion held at Christ Church cathedral at 10 o'clock.

The Bishop of Columbia presided, and there was a large attendance of clergy and lay representatives. On motion of the Rev. Baugh Allen, the Rev. Canon Cowley was welcomed to the floor of the synod, and during the morning the following were elected to office: Clerical secretary, the Rev. Mr.
Sweet; lay secretary, F. W. Blankenbach; treasurer, Percy Wollaston; and auditor, J. S. Floyd.

In commenting on the elections, his lordship expressed the feelings of the meeting when he commended the high character of the work which these voluntary workers did in the church, and said that, owing to the very nature of the service given, too much could not be said in praise of those who undertook to give their assistance in these offices.

The Rev. Mr. Sweet submitted a report of the committee on certificates of lay representatives early during the proceedings, announcing that Clive Phillips-Woolley had been appointed in place of Mr. Dalby at Somenos; and George Luther at Alert Bay.

A considerable amount of routine business was dealt with, and the following were elected a committee of four to report on the bishop's charge:
The Dean, the Rev. E. G. Miller, Clive
Phillips-Woolley, and R. W. Perry.

Reports laid on the table during the morning including the following: Religious Education in the Public Schools and report of committee on Sunday schools; report of parish bounds committee; report of clerical pension fund, report of the clerical financial agent,
report of the northern deanery, proposed by the rural dean, Canon
Leakey, report of the board of governors, first annual report of the Theological College, and report of the executive committee of the diocese for the year.

Nominations were made for members
of the executive committee for the coming year, for which eight clergy
and eight laity were required, the existing members of such committee already including the bishop of the diocese, the dean, Archdeacon Scriven,
the chancellor, the registrar, the treasurer, J. M. Stewart, and the Rev.
F. W. Blankenhach. Nominations
for delegates, four clergy and four laity, to attend the general synod to
be held in September, 1914, at Vancouver, together with substitutes for each
in the event of the original nominees
being unable to attend.

The meeting adjourned at 1.10, and
convened again at 2.30 to hear the report of the scrutineers of nominations.

MAY APPOINT COUNSEL.

City Council Will Consider Whether Separate Legal Representatives
Will Appear in Proceedings.

When the city council meets to-morrow afternoon, under the shadow of an interim injunction, to consult on the legal aspect of the situation arising from the case of the question of the appointment of a separate legal representative for the mayor and aldermen,
as well as for the mayor and aldermen,
will be taken under advisement.

While at different times the jurisdiction of the water commissioner to act independently has been questioned, it has never yet been clearly laid down at law just what the powers of the commissioner are. There is living a representative of the province in the first legislature of the province after constitution, Hon. Robert Beaven. Mr.
Beaven, in subsequent years, as mayor of the city always took the view that the commissioner had very full and ample powers, contending that when the government guaranteed the first bond issue with the determination of keeping the position free from outside influence, it so established the position as independent in 1873.

Argument is to be heard on Friday morning, and upon that judgment the most important issue in municipal politics to-day depends. Everything else has been obliged to give way to the pending litigation.

EASY WAY TO STOP HAIR FROM COMING OUT

A harmless home remedy, compounded principally from the powerful juice of the Peru bark shrub of Peru, has been found highly effective in promptly checking the falling of hair from the scalp.
Men and women whose hair is growing alarmingly thin and falling out badly very soon should try it without fail as the ingredients are perfectly harmless and very inexpensive and the whole thing can be prepared at home or by any druggist. Merely mix together in an 8 oz.
bottle 3 oz. of Lavona de Compose, 5 oz.
of Bay Rum and 1 drachm of Menthol Crystals. Shake well and allow to stand for an hour, when it is ready for use. The Lavona in the above is the pharmaceutical name of the Peru bark. Juice as diluted and scientifically prepared for medical purposes. To stop the hair from coming out and to quickly start a fine growth of new hair all over the scalp, rub this lotion briskly into the scalp with the finger tips or a medium stiff brush for about five minutes each night and morning. After three or four days' use in this way you will find your scalp covered with a thick growth of fine downy new hairs, which will grow with amazing rapidity.

HINDU'S LIBERTY DEPENDS ON COURT

Argument Being Heard by Mr.
Justice Murphy This Afternoon on Application

Argument is being heard to-day by Mr. Justice Murphy on the application for a writ of habeas corpus for the production by the immigration authorities of the body of Narain Singh, detained here for deportation to the place whence he came. J. E. Bird, Vancouver, is acting for the applicant, and W. J. Taylor, K. C., is appearing for the department of immigration and Dr. Milne, the agent of the department in Victoria.

It is claimed by Mr. Bird that the orders-in-council by virtue of which the man, with thirty-eight others, is being held here for return to India as one who is not entitled to entry into Canada, are ultra vires of the government of Canada under the Immigration Act.

Narain Singh, in his affidavit, prepared by his solicitor, C. F. Davis, sets forth that he knows of no warrant by which his liberty is restrained; that any orders-in-council are in excess of the authority of the government; that there is no valid order in existence nor anything else which entitles Dr. Milne to detain him, and that the reasons cited in the orders-in-council do not apply to him anyway.

Mr. Bird advanced several reasons why the orders-in-council, in his opinion, went beyond the act, and were ultra vires of the government. The use of the phrase "order-in-council"
the order voided it because the act gave authority only in respect to "race," which, he contended, was a very different thing. The use of "citizen" in the order-in-council instead of "native or naturalized citizen" widened it beyond the intention of the act, he held. The provision regarding the 2000 which Hindus must have in their possession was unfair in that it made it necessary for them to have it on their person while the act said "shall possess in their own right," which might mean in bank in India, he said.

Mr. Bird pointed to the exception in the order-in-council of "British subjects" and "naturalized subjects of British countries" with which there were special arrangements made with the Japanese in mind, but he claimed that under this the Hindus were also excepted, as by the India Act, passed by the Imperial parliament in 1858, all Hindus are declared to be British subjects, with all the rights and privileges of male British subjects.

"It is not an inherent right of British citizenship that a man can enter Canada," remarked his lordship.
Mr. Bird granted this, but held that under the language of the order-in-council Hindus were entitled to enter as being deemed with in special legislation which had force in this province.
He cited the case of Rahim Singh, who was ordered released by his lordship in March, 1911, on a habeas corpus application, rearrested and again released by order of Mr. Justice Morrison on the ground now urged that the order-in-council was ultra vires.

His lordship reminded counsel that in another case he had himself ordered deportation in the case of a Hindu who came in by broken journey, and he had been upheld by the court of appeal in one of the first judgments rendered by the new court. The present case seemed to him to be on all fours with that in the regard of non-continuous passage.

Counsel will look into this and further argument is being heard this afternoon.

LOCAL NEWS

Building Permits.—Building permits have been issued to Mrs. Annie Wise for a five-room dwelling house on Mc-Kenzie street costing $2,100; to Joshua Smethurst for a house at 1817 Rose street, and to R. Spicer for a house at

Cut in Lumber.—On a graduated scale reduction in the price of lumber is announced by the local millmen, extending from 42 a thousand on common grades of lumber to percentages on finished work. The result is expected to be a stimulus to the building trade.

Case Postponed.—The damage suit brought by Haban Singh against the city for the loss of his horse and rig, which backed through the fence around the Harrison excavation on Wharf street and fell to the bottom, was postponed in county court this morning on account of the absence in Vancouver of City Solicitor Robertson, who is attending the court of appeal. The city has had added to the action as co-defendants the owners of the land but they deny any responsibility.

MARKET RALLIED ON LATE MEXICAN NEWS

On Upturn Halting Disposition Noticeable in View of Other Factors

PORTLAND FIRMNESS WAS WELL DISPLAYED

List Showed Buoyant Quality and Outside Participation Noteworthy.

(By F. W. Stevenson &amp; Co.)

New York, Nov. 5.—The market rallied, induced by covering of the short element on rumors of Mexican difficulties being arbitrated.

There was a strong tendency to prices from the opening and foreign demand generally improved a healthier appearance as compared with the season previous to yesterday's holiday.

On a good upturn throughout the list a halting disposition was easily apparent, showing that other factors still loomed to the front as adverse influences, notably, anti-corruption legislation, which will be forthcoming at congress, December next.

International Coal shows more of a disposition to move in sympathy with other issues, a sale being effected this morning in Spokane at 33c, the highest price for some months.

Sentiment in American markets showed unexpected improvement, induced by Mexican pacification and in consequence security values reflected betterment and had a higher range.

Canada Consolidated, Granby and B. C. Packers, therefore, were steady to firmer.

MAY APPOINT SOON.

Finance Committee Will Pay Patrol-Women If Commissioners Can Agree on Appointments.

In addition to reaching a decision with regard to temporary improvements at the jail, the police commissioners, when they meet again shortly, will make an attempt to break the deadlock over the appointment of two patrol women for preventive and other police work.

The finance committee of the city council has now allotted the necessary money to pay the women, but the majority of the commissioners, it is stated, do not favor the two women recommended by the women's organizations for appointment. Instead they have nominations of other women whom they consider suitable. If an arrangement can be reached as to the appointments, there is no other reason now to bar the nominations going through.

HOLDS ON TO MONEY

Wants to Get Land for Saanich Line Whether or Not Arbitration Pleases It

The Canadian Northern Pacific Railway Company does not seem to be anxious to put up the money to pay for lands it requires for the construction of its line from the city to Patricia Bay, although it is in such a hurry to get on with the work, it is alleged by its officers, that it is applying to the court for warrants to get possession at once instead of waiting for arbitration proceedings to be completed.

A necessary preliminary, however, to securing the court's warrants is the payment into court of whatever sum the judge thinks necessary to cover the possible awards and costs of the arbitrators which shall not be less than fifty per cent more than the company offers. When the railway did not yesterday morning seem willing to make any payment into court of the amounts asked by the owners whose land has not yet been secured, Mr. Justice Murphy had to take evidence to guide him in fixing the sums that should be paid in, but he had only disposed of two cases, which would have called for the payment of $70,000, when counsel for the railway, Edward Mayer, of Bodwell & Lawson, announced that he would abandon the proceedings for warrants.

Proceeding yesterday with the hearing of evidence as to the value of the lands for which warrants of possession were sought, Mr. Justice Murphy heard the company's purchasing agent and testimony for C. W. Bradshaw as to his lands. His lordship came to the decision that before granting a warrant, and pending the award of the arbitrators, the company must pay into court $50,000 on account of Mr. Bradshaw's lands. This represents $15,000 for the lots adjoining his residence and $50,000 for the lots in Crescenthor subdivision.

W. J. Taylor, K. C., was then proceeding to the consideration of Mr. Rowland's lots when the company threw up its hands, and Mr. Mayer announced that it would abandon its applications for warrants.

His lordship set Monday as the date for beginning arbitration proceedings as to the Bradshaw and Walton lands.

When the matter was again referred to this morning F. J. Stacpoole, K. C., who is representing Mr. Bradshaw, read an affidavit from his client in which Mr. Bradshaw stated that after the proceedings had concluded yesterday Mr. Mayer had told him that the company did not intend to pay any money into court but would go on with arbitration; that he did not wish to abandon the warrants for possession, but desired to be in a position to take advantage of these if the arbitration was not satisfactory to the company.

"If he does not wish to go on with possession then there were no bona fides in his application to your lordship yesterday," commented Mr. Stacpoole. "It shows a complete absence of good faith on the part of the company in the matter."

Mr. Mayer contended that the terms which the court imposed yesterday were so onerous that the company would be unable to go on with its work on the line. There was already some eighty or ninety thousand dollars ordered to be paid into court, and if the other cases were gone on with it would mean that several hundred thousand dollars would have to be tied up, and as the owners could appeal on to the Privy Council the money might be so kept for months or years. The question was whether the company should get the warrants or abandon the whole thing. He had understood the order to be that if the company proceeded to arbitration within a reasonable time and paid the money in before proceeding it could obtain the warrants.

His lordship appeared to be greatly surprised when Mr. Stacpoole had first mentioned the matter, and could not realize for some moments that the company was proposing such a step as now seemed to be the case.

"If you are not satisfied with my order," said his lordship, "you can take the ordinary procedure, but you cannot take advantage of these extraordinary proceedings. The object of the law is not to give you two cards to play. The only reason I gave the order I did yesterday was that I thought your construction work was being tied, and that you had not time for the usual six days' notice. Now I find that you are going to take a long time to consider the whole matter. I made the order for arbitration to commence on Monday for the convenience of both the company and the owners."

After further discussion the court ruled that if the money ordered to be paid in is not put up by Monday the applications made by the company will fall and no warrants will be issued. For the company R. S. Day has been named as arbitrator, and for Mr. Bradshaw, James T. Reid. If a third cannot be agreed upon counsel are to submit some names to the judge who will make an appointment.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Walk Down Trounce Avenue To-day or This Evening and See Three of the World's Greatest Inventions

The Street Car Indicator Co., Limited

The Street Car Indicator Co., Ltd., has been formed for the purpose of commercializing the invention of Mr. John Simpson, a Vancouver young man.

The apparatus is an electrically operated device placed in street cars, in plain view of all passengers, and which automatically indicates every street which the car crosses, regardless of the length of blocks, number of times the car stops, or direction in which the car is going.

It will readily be seen what a distinct advantage this is over the old system, because it obviates the necessity of conductors calling the names of streets.

Passengers, whether strangers or not, know just what street is next, regardless of darkness or fog, or new conductors not familiar with the run.

In connection with the Indicator is an advertising device which is absolutely the best yet—

First—Because it is directly in front of every passenger.

Second—Because a new advertising card appears simultaneously with the name of every street, and remains in view for two entire blocks.

Third—Because it is moving. It catches the eye of everyone, where a stationary "Ad" does not.

It's a necessity, a public commodity. Can you beat it?

STANDARD LIGHT CLOCK

The Company also operates a Standard Light Clock, to be placed on prominent street corners. This is an ornamental, attractive advertising device, comprising a four-dial clock, together with two advertising cards under each clock face, making a total of eight advertising cards displayed at once. The clock is electrically controlled and automatically shifts the advertising cards every half minute.

WALL CLOCK

Another device which this Company controls is a Wall Clock, with two advertising cards displayed at once, and which operates in the same manner as the Standard Light Clock. These wall clocks will be placed in hotel rotundas, station houses, restaurants, or any other public place.

It can readily be seen without further explanation what a distinctly advantageous advertising proposition these machines are, and what a handy, worry-saving device the Street Car Indicator is alone.

The Company has the Patent Rights for these devices for both Canada and the United States.

We invite the most critical investigation. Come and let us show you the device operating as it will actually operate in the Cars and in the Standard Clock.
